MORE PRIZE WINNERS.
In the past 21 days exactly 678 new Daily Advocate subscribers, all being paid-in-advance readers, were secured by the contestants. Including those secured in the first few weeks of the contest, the total of new paid-in-advance Daily subscribers during the contest is 1012. The following cash prizes were awarded Friday:
Miss Emery$20
Miss Dair 5
Miss Beaver 5
Miss Madden 5

Exactly 1,012 new Daily Advocate paid in advance subscriptions were added to the already large list of Advocate subscribers as a result of the Jamestown contest just closed, and besides these, exactly 412 new paid in advance subscriptions were added to the Semi-Weekly Advocate mailing list—a total of 1,422 new paid-in-advance subscribers.

The result will not only astonish the advertisers who know the value of newspaper circulation, but will gratify them, and be a guarantee that the Advocate will give greater value for every dollar expended in advertising at this office than ever before. On Friday evening the bonafide, paid subscription to the Daily Advocate exceeded 5100—a figure never before approached by a Newark newspaper.

During the first half of the contest the Advocate gave a diamond ring and two cash prizes for the largest number of new paid-in-advance Daily subscriptions, and just three weeks before the close of the contest—or on June 5—this paper offered three more cash prizes for new subscriptions received before the close of the exposition contest.

This gave the contestants exactly 21 days in which to work for new subscriptions, and the fact that 678 new names were placed upon the Advocate books, each one of the 678 being a paid-in-advance Daily Advocate subscriber, shows how well the contestants worked. The count, completed Friday night, shows that Miss Emery wins the $20, Misses Beaver and Dair are tied for second prize, $10, and Miss Madden of Hebron, wins the third prize, $5.

Below is a list of the names of contestants to whom credit for new subscriptions received in the past 21 days has been given. Remember the books are open to inspection not only by the contestants and their friends, but by advertisers as well:

dies on their trip to Washington and the Jamestown exposition, was naturally much pleased to learn through Friday night's paper that her young daughter, Miss Estella, had stood first in the big contest. This fact gave Miss Emery the privilege of selecting the chaperon and it also gives Mrs. Emery and daughter the extra trip to New York. Dr. and Mrs. Emery until recently lived at 14 Cedar street, but they now reside at the corner of Granville and the Sharon Valley roads.

RECEPTION FOR WINNERS.

Advocate Printing Co., Newark, O.: Gentlemen: I want to thank my friends, individually, for their loyal support in the recent Advocate Jamestown exposition contest. Each subscription gave more courage to work and persevere to the end. Only one subscription less would have failed to gain me the hat, and five less would have failed to give me the EVENING WEDDING IN GRACE CHURCH.

MRS. JAMES M. MUNYON JR.

New York, June 29.—Spring and summer flowers filled the chancel of Grace church when Miss Ada B. Gilliam, daughter of Mr. M. M. Gilliam, was married to Mr. James M. Munyon Jr., a son of Professor M. M. Munyon.
Miss Gilliam was given away by her father. Her gown, a lingerie robe, was richly trimmed with old lace. Her bouquet was of white roses and honor of selecting the chaperon for the party. I want also to thank Clouse and Schauweker for the hat and the Newark Hardware company for the hammock. The entire party, in order to become acquainted, will be invited to spend an evening at the home of the chaperon before their departure.

MISS BUCY'S LETTER.

To the Advocate:
Gentlemen: As one of the successful contestants for the Jamestown exposition trip, I desire to thank you for the many courtesies shown me during the contest. The greatest pleasure I experience in my success is the knowledge I have gleaned of the number of friends I have, who have not only proven themselves so in words, but in deeds.

Having but very little time at my disposal to devote to the work, I was compelled to rely upon what my friends could and would do to help me.

I was not disappointed in the effect of their work, neither would I have been had I been unsuccessful, as the spirit with which they took hold of the work evidenced that of true friendship.

I desire to thank all of my friends for their great kindness and indefatigable efforts.

Most particularly do I desire to extend my warmest and sincere appreciation and thanks, to my co-workers of the H. H. Griggs Co., who, having assisted me during the contest, becoming fearful that I would not win, raised a purse among themselves, to be used for my success on the last day.

To such loyalty and friendship as this I attribute my success.

Again thanking the Advocate and all my friends, I am,

Most respectfully,
CLARA E. BUCY.

LETTER FROM MISS STARE.

The Advocate Printing Company:
Gentlemen: I wish to thank, through the columns of your paper, all of my friends who, through their kindness made it possible for me to be one of the Washington-Jamestown party.

Every one of the winners, I am sure, will unite with me in extending to the staff of this paper their heartfelt thanks for the many courtesies shown them during the contest.

With best wishes for the success of the Newark-Daily Advocate, I am, Yours gratefully,
ANNA D. STARE

Newark, O., June 29, 1907.

FROM MISS ALICE YOUNG.

Through the columns of the Advocate I desire to express my gratitude to all those who so kindly gave me their support in the Jamestown contest.

ALICE L. YOUNG.

WHAT CONTEST DID.
The contest just closed added 1912 new paid-in-advance Daily subscribers, and 410 new paid-in-advance Semi-Weekly subscribers to the Advocate's already large list. This fact is respectfully called to the users of newspaper space—1422 new subscribers have been secured for the Advocate.

REPAIRER OF WRECKED TENEMENT UNDER $25,000 BAIL.

SEARCHING THE RUINS OF BUILDING WHICH COLLAPSED.
★ SHOWS PLACE WHERE JACOB REIGER WAS FOUND UNINJURED AFTER BUILDING COLLAPSED.

New York, June 29.—After one that carelessness and negligence were responsible for the collapse of the tenement at Lafayette and Walker streets in which seven persons were killed and as many more injured, Coroner Harburger began an investigation a few hours after the accident to place the responsibility.

It was learned through witnesses that the building had been reported as unsafe a few hours before the collapse.

Although the building department was notified more than three hours before the structure fell, no action was taken toward warning the occupants of the house of their danger. George Blumenthal, a contractor who had been repairing the building, was arrested by Coroner Harburger and held in $25,000 bail for his appearance at the inquest, which will be held next Tuesday.

ADVOCATE'S OLDEST SUBSCRIBER HAS ANSWERED THE LAST CALL AND HAS GONE TO HIS REWARD

Nearly a Century Has Passed Since Mr. Abraham Ingraham
Was Born, and Has Been an Honored Citizen of Licking County for Many Years.

Mr. Abraham Ingraham died Saturday morning at 1 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James Oldaker, near Croton, Ohio.

He was 96 years of age, he was a member of the Methodist church, and the funeral will take place at the Methodist church at Fredonia, Sunday, at 2:30 p. m. Interment in the church cemetery.

An interesting life history is that of The Advocate's oldest subscriber, Abraham Tate Ingraham.

Mr. Ingraham has taken The Advocate for over 50 years, seldom missing a single issue of the semi-weekly. He has voted the Democratic ticket at every election since and including that of Andrew Jackson in 1822, and has lived in Licking county for all but 12 years of his long and successful life.

Mr. Ingraham was born in Harrison county, Virginia, near Clarksburg, on July 28, 1811. At the age of 5 years his parents removed to Wood county, Va., where they remained until 1816, when they changed their residence to Marietta, Ohio. Shortly after this the family again moved, coming to a farm which Mr. Ingraham's parents had purchased and which is situated two and one-half miles south of Fredonia, this county.

Working hard, as country boys must in those days, Mr. Ingraham was reared in a practical school of self-education along agricultural lines, and soon became a most successful farmer. After some time spent on the farm, he decided to try business for himself and was for a time employed in Granville. He soon became interested in the milling business and purchased a mill of his own in Morrow county. After a short time there he engaged in the dry goods business in Findlay, O. But old Licking's call to him was too strong to be resisted, and he retired from real active work and came to the country again.

In November, 1834, Mr. Ingraham was married to Miss Eleanor Horn, a prominent young woman of Union Station. To them were born four sons and one daughter. The hand of grim death touched the family and took the mother and wife from his midst. Some years later Mr. Ingraham was married to Miss Margaret Harris of near St. Louisville. Of the two marriages and family of two children, but no grand children. The late N. B. Ingraham of Nampa, Idaho, Frank, employed now at the Jewett Car works, this city; Mrs. Clara Philbrook, residing three miles west of Johnstown, and Mrs. Jennie Oldaker, of near Croton.

Although so far past the allotted years of mankind and so near the century mark, Mr. Ingraham was in possession of remarkable strength and vitality until the past few months, when he had been troubled considerably with heart disorder. In spite of this his mind was clear, sound, and brilliant. His big, whole-some character, his business-like view of things, both near and far, tells a story of an almost wonderful life history, and reads like a book of pure, white pages.

SENTENCE COMMUTED.

Columbus, June 29.—Gov. Harris today, on the advice of the pardon board, commuted the sentence of E. F. Kane, convicted of embezzlement from the Lorain Banking Co., from seven to three years, releasing him Monday.

SEC. TAFT DENOUNCES REPORTS AS FALSE

Says There is No Truth in the Story That Army Officers Will Leave.

Washington, June 29.—"It is a shame of falsehoods," said Secretary Taft Friday, when his attention was called to the reports of dissatisfaction on the part of the administration with the management of affairs under the Isthmian canal commission.

and of the intention of the officers engaged in that work to relinquish it and return to the United States. "No immediate change is contemplated in the administration of affairs on the isthmus," the secretary continued, "and there has not been a single 'kick' of any sort. There is no truth in the stories of the army officers asking for leave of absence to return to the United States."

MEN CAUGHT BY FALLING SHALE

Croton, June 29.—Twelve men excavating a cut on the Wheeling & Southwestern electric line near here, were caught by a fall of shale rock today. One man was killed, four probably fatally and seven seriously injured. The dead man is J. Calengo, an Italian.

Tax Held Illegal.

St. Louis, June 29.—A decision was handed down by Judge Pollack in the United States circuit court holding that the tax of $2,173.79 levied upon the estate of Judge George A. Madill, as a Spanish-American war tax, was an illegal action. If Judge Pollack's decision is affirmed by the supreme court the result will be that $7,000,000 collected by the United States as a war tax must be returned.

DOG STONING

And Pounding of the Youthful Owner Led To the Killing of An Older Brother.

Ashland, Ky., June 29.—John Bryan was shot and instantly killed by Francis Fannin at Triplett's Crossing, five miles from this city, yesterday morning. The shooting was the result of the stoning of a dog and the assaulting of David Bryan, the youthful owner, by Dan and Ben Fannin, brothers of Francis.

This morning John Bryan and his son Dan met Francis Fannin and brother, Dan Fannin.

"Well, do you think you can smash my mouth in the way you smashed my young brother's?" asked Dan Bryan, addressing Dan Fannin.

"Think I can," answered Dan, who immediately leaped at Bryan, who also started for him.

Francis Fannin immediately drew a revolver and shot Bryan once in the head and once in the body. Bryan sank in his tracks dead. A widow and five children survive him.

The Fannins escaped, but are pursued by Sheriff Geiger and a posse.

INJURIES MAY PROVE FATAL TO TOOL DRESSER AT UTICA BY FALL FROM DERRICK

Utica, Ohio, June 29.—Harry lost his hold and fell, striking Worthington, a young unmarried man who for some time past has been employed as a tool dresser in the Knox-Licking gas fields, was the victim of a severe and probably fatal accident on Saturday morning.

Young Worthington was engaged at work on the Watson farm, about three-quarters of a mile from Utica, and was on the second "girt" of the derrick. In moving about he sudden-

PHYSICAL FORCE MAY BE USED TO SERVE SUBPOENA

AGAINST THE OIL MAGNATE, J. D. ROCKEFELLER, IN CHICAGO PROCEEDING.

EVERY ACTIVITY IN USE

To Serve the Summons to Appear Before Federal Judge Landis, is to Be Put in Force.

Chicago, June 29.—Federal Judge Landis today sent word to U. S. District Attorney Sims to put every activity of the department of justice at work to procure the service of the subpoenas issued for John D. Rockefeller. He telegraphed the marshal of the New York district and that official must serve the process at all hazards. If one deputy marshal cannot find the oil king others will be sent. If resistance is encountered, it will be overcome by physical force if necessary. Persons offering resistance are liable for contempt.

SURRENDERED TO THE OFFICERS AND GETS JAIL SENTENCE

FUGITIVE EX-DIRECTOR PLEADED GUILTY TO THE INDICTMENT.

Ex-Member of Service Board Given Ten Next Tuesday to Furnish Bond.

Columbus, June 29.—Charles Burr, the fugitive ex-director of public service, surrendered this morning to face four indictments, for being interested in public contracts, and one for bribery.

Burr pleaded guilty to the indictment of being interested in public contracts and was fined $200 and sentenced to the county jail for three months. He was then arraigned on charges of bribery, pleaded not guilty and was held until $2000 bond. Judge Rodgers suspended the jail sentence until Tuesday, permitting Burr to visit his family. Burr had been in Canada.

TELEGRAPHERS MAY STRIKE IN CHICAGO

Chicago, June 29.—That a strike of telegraph operators will break out in Chicago Monday is the belief of those watching the struggle between the Commercial Telegraphers' Union and the Western Union and Postal companies. It is said that the "Trisco" strike has not had the effect of bringing the companies to terms, but it is believed that tying up Chicago would bring a pressure upon the companies that would force a settlement.

HELD MURDERER TWO MORTALLY WOUNDED

Chicago, June 29.—Dragged from her bed by her hair, while her little son pleaded in vain for her life, Mrs. May Holesworth was shot and instantly killed today by Cecil C. Gibson, a rejected suitor, who afterward turned his revolver on Thos. Jones, who had hurried to the rescue, and shot him through the lung. Jones, who is dying, held Gibson until the police arrived.

Mrs. Walter Herd of Bristle Ridge, Mo., killed Mrs. James Herd, her sister-in-law, with a butcher knife during a quarrel.

SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Haynes very pleasantly entertained with a dinner party on Sunday. Covers were laid for the following: Mr. and Mrs. S. Haynes of Granville, Mrs. Werham and son Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin of Newark, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Werham of Columbus.

The following young people are guests at a house party in Columbus during the week: Misses Mable Stone, Jessie Sweeting, Hazel McMullin, Daisy Stone, Lorena Kent, May Workman, and Messrs. Maurice and Bernard Kent. They are being entertained by Mr. Charles Phillips.

Miss Vance received many beautiful presents. The guests departed at a late hour wishing Miss Vance many more happy birthdays.

Mrs. Blanche M. Owens and daughter Geraldine of Columbus, are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Lees of the Welsh Hills. On Wednesday evening a few relatives gathered at their home to spend the evening. Some beautiful music was rendered by Joseph A. Wharton. At a late hour all departed, having enjoyed a pleasant time.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stone of Newton Chapel entertained the following at dinner Thursday: Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Chilcote, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Matlicks, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Burgeon Miller, Mr. and Mrs. James Parnell, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Montgomery, Mr. William Veatch and Mrs. Harrison of Wheeling, W. Va.

A very pleasant surprise was given Mrs. John Brodbeck by her many friends and neighbors on Thursday evening at her home in Tuscarawas street, it being the anniversary of her birth. The evening was spent in games and music, after which dainty refreshments were served.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Montgomery, Mrs. S. Herndon, Mr. and Mrs. Howard White and son Herman, Mrs. A. E. Lawrence, Mrs. Fred Stephens and son Royden, Mr. and Mrs. Wylie Berger and Miss Effie Herndon.

The society events of the week were featured by the reception given by Mrs. J. A. Mitchell on Thursday afternoon at her home on Hudson avenue. The hours were from two until five, and during that time Mrs. J. A. Mitchell, assisted by Mrs. M. T. Hunt of Columbus and Mrs. J. D. Arndt of Mt. Vernon graciously received a large number of guests.

The two front parlors of the residence were decorated with flowers in profusion. The color scheme was white and green, prettily effected with field daisies. These banded the mantle and festooned the room.

The hostess was ably assisted by Mrs. Henry Woodbridge, Mrs. T. A. Cosgrove, Miss Julia Smith and Miss Dora Lisle.

In the dining room, the colors of red and green predominated, and the centerpiece at the prettily appointed table was a handsome bouquet of scarlet roses.

Chocolate and coffee were poured by Miss Kathryn Simonds and Mrs. Howard Jones and they were charmingly assisted by Misses Marion Weiant, Frances Collins, Sarah Seymour and Louise Norpell. These young ladies were daintily gowned in white and red.

Punch was served in the library where red roses and ferns were gracefully placed, and the punch bowl was presided at by Misses Bertha Latimer and Helen Welant.

During the afternoon about two hundred called, and the gowns were elaborate and beautiful. Among the guests were the following from Granville: Mrs. Emory Hudt, Mrs. C. J. Rose, Mrs. C. L. Williams, Miss Helen Williams, Mrs. B. I. Jones, Mrs. Dorsey, Mrs. E. T. Cook.

The Alberta club enjoyed a dance at Buckeye Lake on Friday evening, special cars leaving the square at 7:30. A pleasant evening was spent.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. D. M. Black was hostess to the Cavenish club. The first trophy was awarded Mrs. Thomas Jones and the second souvenir was received by Mrs. C. W. Miller.

The Hetuck Chapter of the D. A. R. held a very enjoyable meeting on Friday at the home of Mrs. W. C. Wells. A pleasant afternoon was spent, Miss Catherine Vance entertaining the guests with music and recitations. A dainty luncheon was served on the lawn at the close of the business session.

Miss Esther Kissane very charmingly entertained the Keba Maso club Friday afternoon at her home on North Pine street. Dainty refreshments were served to the following guests: Miss Hazel Green, Flora Hurstel, Marie Allen, Ruth E. Forry, Nina Plotcher, Mildred P. Dickey, Isabella Summers, Esther Kissane.

The Thursday Afternoon Harmonious club was very pleasantly entertained by Mrs. Cook on Thursday. Pedro was a feature of the afternoon, the prizes being awarded Miss Mary Balzer and Mrs. Denman. The guest's prize was awarded Mrs. H. Marple.

The guests were: Mrs. Mauler, Mrs. Harlow, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Lane of Anderson, Ind., Mrs. Harry Marple, and Mrs. B. Balzer. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Wilhelm, 96 South Pine street.

The Taka Embroidery club was delightfully entertained by Mrs. Wilson, at her home on Williams street, Friday afternoon. At the close of the meeting dainty refreshments were served the members and the following guests: Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Ford, Mrs. Schimmel, Mrs. Devore, Mrs. Galogly, Mrs. Houpit, and Mrs. Crawford. The members of the club decided to hold their annual outing Friday afternoon, July 5th, at Black Hand picnic rock. They will leave on the 2 o'clock interurban car.

Mrs. C. W. Thompson entertained about 80 little folks Friday afternoon from 2 until 5 in honor of her little son Kenneth's 6th birthday anniversary. A "nigger baby" hunt was greatly enjoyed by the children, the prize being won by Master Virgil Peters of Byesville, O. Dainty refreshments were served. At a late hour all departed, wishing Mrs. Bader many more happy birthdays.

Mrs. Beecher very prettily entertained on Friday afternoon at her home on Church street complimentary to her daughter, Mrs. King, it being her wedding anniversary. Bridge was the game of the afternoon after

KEEP YOUR HEAD UNCOVERED.

The Constant Wearing of a Hat Propagates Dandruff Germs.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalp of these same men once became infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbro's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not a atom of indurating substance. Sold by leading druggists. Newbro's Herpicide

WHAT HERPICIDE DOES

Newbro's Herpicide destroys the tiny vegetable growth in the scalp, that causes dandruff itching scalp, falling hair and baldness. Once this microscopic enemy of the hair is destroyed and kept out of the scalp, the hair is bound to grow as nature intended, except in cases of chronic baldness.

WHAT SUNLIGHT DOES

Sunlight is nature's germ destroyer and prophylactic. The effect of sunlight upon the scalp proves highly beneficial, if a complete plan of scalp cleanliness is carried out. This cannot be done without the use of Herpicide, which prevents reinfection and keeps the scalp pure and wholesome.

More men and women have gotten positive results from the use of Newbro's Herpicide than from all other hair remedies combined.

HOT WEATHER TROUBLES

The perspiration that exudes in increased quantities during the summer months, carries out poisonous and refuse matter that would otherwise clog up the pores of the scalp.

Incomplete elimination of this waste, produces a hot and feverish condition of the sweat glands known as Prickly Heat for which Herpicide gives immediate relief. Herpicide stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

Col. Thomp Burton, Member of the Board of Managers of the Ohio Penitentiary, writes as follows of Newbro's Herpicide:

"As to Herpicide I find it an excellent hair dressing as well as being the first and only absolute dandruff cure I have found. Upon my advice a number of my friends are using Herpicide, and the unanimous verdict is, that Herpicide is, in all respects, everything that its manufacturers claim for it."

Newbro's Herpicide is made from Pure Grain Alcohol and is guaranteed under the Food and Drugs Act June 30th, 1906. Serial No. 915.

80TH ANNIVERSARY

Col. W. D. Rutledge, one of the oldest, best known and most substantial residents of Licking county, reached the eightieth milestone of his age on Friday, and the event was remembered by his children, although no celebration was had owing to the sickness of the colonel's wife. Col. Rutledge's parents were Elijah and Margaret Rutledge, the latter of whom lived to be over 86 years old, and he was born south of Gratiot, and has lived on the same half section in Franklin township for 53 years, where he has reared to manhood and womanhood four children, all of whom have become honored and respected citizens of the community in which they reside, being T. V. Rutledge of this city, Rev. E. S. Rutledge of Johnstown, W. J. Rutledge of Newark, and Miss Margaret, who lives at home. All long-lived people, his grandfather being 80 years old when he died and his grandmother 80, while his mother lived to be 86 years old. In the old graveyard at Asbury Chapel, Hopewell township, Muskingum county, are buried the ancestors of Col. Rutledge, the oldest tombstone marking any of the Rutledge graves bearing the date of 1711. Mr. T. V. Rutledge of this city, has in his possession an old clock that once belonged to his great grandfather.

JONES-STASEL.

On Wednesday evening, June 26, at the pleasant rural home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Stasel occurred the marriage of their youngest daughter, Miss Effie, to Mr. Raymond C. Jones, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Mr. Faulkner. About 90 guests were present, and the numerous and beautiful gifts attested the popularity of the young couple. They will reside for the present at the home of the bride's parents.

FRY-RINEHART.

Mr. Charles W. Fry, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fry, and Miss Zoe Rinehart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Rinehart, were married Saturday at high noon. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Vernon, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, at the parsonage on Sixth street, in the presence of several friends, who accompanied the happy couple. At the conclusion of the ceremony the newly married couple repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where quite a number of friends had assembled to shower their congratulations on them, and where a wedding dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Fry left on the interurban car at 1:45 for Columbus and from that point will make a short wedding trip. On their return a reception will be given them at the home of the groom's parents, 169 Ninth street. The groom is a popular young man and is employed as an iron worker at the A. G. Wyeth sleigh works, while the bride is a most charming young woman, possessed of many excellent traits of character. The happy couple have the best wishes of all their friends.

BRANUM-KITTLE.

On Saturday morning at 9 o'clock Mr. Clarence Brannum of Lancaster, and Miss Cora Kittle of Newark, were united in marriage at the East Main Street M. E. parsonage, Rev. T. W. Locke, solemnizing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Brannum will live in Lancaster.

DAVID DEAN MARRIED.

The news of the marriage last May of David Thomas Dean to a young lady of Kansas City was just made public here today. Mr. Dean is located in Kansas City and was called east recently on account of serious illness of his father, Mr. Charles M. Dean, and while there he told of his marriage. The name of the bride is not known here yet. The groom is a nephew of Mr. David Thomas and Mrs. Anson B. White of this city, and lived here with his parents for many years.

The RAYMOND PIANO
"Nearest the Human Voice"

The Practical Piano

A "thump-box" is the dealer's name for "Commercial" pianos, when you don't hear him—You can't afford to buy a thump box at any price unless you can afford to throw away money.

Buy the RAYMOND Piano, it's practical, and be sure you're right.

Its interior is as flawless as its exterior is perfect. Its tone is nearer the human voice than any other. It is guaranteed for 10 years but will last a lifetime. When a RAYMOND Piano becomes a member of your family, you have an instrument to which you and your friends may point with pride. Its voice will mellow and improve as the years roll by. You will never have cause to regret the purchase of this dearly cherished family heirloom.

We have been building instruments for 51 years but have never made a "thump-box," while every RAYMOND Piano we have made has sold another.

In the interest of your family, friends and pocket book, let us send you our exquisitely illustrated Piano Book, 24 pages in color and brim full of interesting and useful piano information—sent absolutely free on request.

SECRET SOCIETIES

Camels.

Monarch Lodge, No. 66, held an enthusiastic meeting on Wednesday night. Supreme Eminent Ruler A.
A. George and Supreme Secretary W.
S. Beny of Springfield, were present at the meeting and outlined plans for a vigorous campaign for members.
Bro. Beny will present the Camel proposition to Newark citizens in a few days and Monarch Temple expects to have a large class of candidates for the 10th of July. Four applications for membership were read and referred to the investigating committee.

A large attendance of all members of the Temple is asked for next Wednesday night, at which time Brother Beny will report progress of campaign up to that time. Every Camel should be present and show his loyalty to Monarch Temple by hustling for at least one new member.

Remember the change in meeting night, Wednesday, July 3, and let every Camel be present and "whoop 'em up" for old Monarch No. 66.

Pathfinders.

Pathfinder No. 79 will meet Monday evening at 8 o'clock in K. of P. hall. Hereafter our meetings will be held in the Red Men's hall, on N.
Third street, on the second and fourth Thursday evenings of each month.

On Monday evening Special Deputy Nash will be present, and the following officers will be installed:
Past President—Robert Sheffer.
President—W. H. Fairall.
Chaplain—Alice Riggs.
Guide—Ethel Shrock.
Sergeant-at-Arms—Charles Warden.

Treasurer—Carrie Martin.
Associate Editor—Edith Smith.
Recording Secretary—Blanche Smith.

Inner Guard—Zephaniah Cannon.
Outer Guard—Wallace Workman.
Musical Director—Mary Dicker.
Let all Pathfinders be present at this meeting.

Modern Woodmen.

Cedar Camp, No. 4727, Modern Woodmen of America, met in regular session on Monday night, with seventy-nine members present. Five applications for membership were received and balloted upon. Three candidates were adopted as members of Cedar Camp, two as benefical members and one as social member.
The clerk has received a letter from the mailing list department of the Modern Woodman asking for the correct address of all the neighbors who do not receive a copy of the official organ every month. The paper is mailed to every neighbor at his last postoffice address and if the neighbor does not receive his paper he should send the clerk his correct postoffice address and the paper will come to him regularly every month. At the next regular meeting of Cedar Camp, which will be held on Monday, July 1, there will be several candidates to be initiated, and a good turn out of the members is desired. The clerk has received notice from the head clerk that there would not be an as-rad Kuppinger, who died June 20, 1907, so be it.

Resolved, That in the death of Brother Kuppinger, the tribe has lost a true and devoted member, and we earnestly pray that the Great Spirit in His infinite mercy will enable us, his brothers fraternally, to bear up under our bereavement in Christian spirit and resignation, and humbly submit to the divine will.

Resolved, That we tender to the bereaved family of our brother, our heartfelt condolence, and commend them to Him who alone can alleviate earth's deepest sorrow.

Resolved, That in respect to the memory of our departed brother, we drape our charter in mourning for a period of thirty days; that these resolutions be spread upon the records of the tribe and a copy be sent to the bereaved family and be published in the daily papers.

Odd Fellows.

There was not very much doing in Odd Fellow circles this week. At the meeting of Newark lodge, No. 623, Monday night, there was work in the first degree, and in Olive Branch lodge on Tuesday night only routine business was transacted. At the meeting of Licking lodge, No. 143, Daughters of Rebekah, held Thursday night, five candidates were initiated and a number of petitions for membership were received.

Masonic.

At a special communication of Acme Lodge, No. 554, F. and A. M., held on Thursday night, there was work in the Fellow Craft degree.

A stated communication of Warren Chapter, No. 6, R. A. M., will be held Monday night, July 1, on which occasion important business will be transacted and the Royal Arch degree conferred on three candidates.

A stated assembly of Bigelow Council, No. 7, R. and S. M., will be held Wednesday night, July 3, at which time the degree will be conferred.

Lemert Relief Corps.

At the regular meeting of Lemert Relief Corps, No. 45, held on Wednesday, June 27, they extended to the public a vote of thanks for their generous donations and their kindly help in making the dinners and reception of the Ex-Prisoners of War a success on June 19 and 20, especially to Baldwin the florist, for beautiful flowers donated.

Tribe of Ben Hur.

AFTERNOON PAPERS FOR ADVERTISING

The Wanmaker advertising has been taken out of the New York morning papers, and this great merchandising store is now using the afternoon papers almost exclusively.
Another big New York store that has apparently done the same thing in the Fourteenth street store of Henry Siegel. This is a straw that shows plainly the direction of the advertising wind. The evening paper goes straight into the homes, and it greet the housewife, who is the great purchaser, at a time when she is in a receptive mood. She then has time to make her arrangements for the next day's purchasing and to take advantage of the store bargains.

The Wholesale Supply & Tailoring Co.

We Go by Our Own Standards

When you wear the clothes we make you, you are not the man who lives in a rented house, who always sees improvements he would have made had he built the house.

THE MAN WHO BUILDS A HOUSE gets it the way he wants it the first time. Some one has said when you wear clothing made for no one in particular you are living in a "Cloth House," built without your knowledge or advice.

WHEN YOU WEAR THE CLOTHES WE MAKE you, then you are in your own "Cloth House," made for your own comfort and sightliness.

WE PUT SHAPE INTO YOUR GARMENTS. Your own individuality by this method is brought out strongly and your "market value," as employee or as director of business will go up.

TO BE SUCCESSFUL—LOOK SUCCESSFUL.
And this you can do by letting us make your clothes.

Central Church of Christ.
H. Newton Miller, pastor, 155 N. Fifth street. There will be a short session of the Bible school, beginning at 9:15. Let there be a large attendance and on time. Inasmuch as this day is the third anniversary of the dedication of the church building and also marks the close of the present pastorate, the services of the day will hold unusual interest for the membership and friends. The time limit for which pledges were taken on "lot" payments to the building fund, also expires, and reports of the financial situation and of the work in general will be given. Should there be any who are greatly interested in a plan to be proposed by which the matter may be satisfactorily adjusted. The pastor hopes to greet every member who can possibly be present and all friends. The morning service will open with communion at 10, instead of 10:30, as usual, so that the service will close perhaps earlier than ordinarily. Evening worship will begin at 7:30. The male quartet will sing at both services. Prayer meeting Wednesday at 7:30. Ladies' Missionary meeting Friday at 2:15 at the home of Mrs. C. V. Foster, 223 Woods avenue. Christian Endeavor at 6:15. Strangers are always welcome to all services. All cordially invited. Come.

A Case of STOMACH CATARRH.

Miss Mary O'Brien, 806 Myrtle Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:
"Peruna cured me in five weeks of catarrh of the stomach, after suffering for four years and doctoring without effect. So common with other grateful ones who have been benefited by your discovery, I say, All hail to Peruna."

Mr. H. J. Henneman, Oakland, Neb., writes:
"I waited before writing to you about my sickness, catarrh of the stomach, which I had over a year ago. 'There were people who told me it would not stay cured, but I am sure that I am cured, for I do not feel any more ill effects, have a good appetite and am getting fat. 'So I am, and will say to all, I am cured for good. 'I thank you for your kindness. 'Peruna will be our house medicine hereafter.' Catarrh of the stomach is also known in common parlance as dyspepsia, gastritis and indigestion. No medicine will be of any permanent benefit except it removes the catarrhal condition. Nervous Debility. Miss Irene Smith, 10 Minnesota Ave., Randle Highlands, Washington, D. C., writes:
"Peruna cured me of catarrh of the head and stomach and nervous debility from which I suffered for two years."

ALWARD-TYLER

FAMILY REUNION

NEARLY 250 PEOPLE ENJOY A FAMILY GATHERING AT BUCKEYE LAKE.

R. T. Tyler of Alexandria, Elected President—Next Reunion Held In August, 1908.

R. F. Tyler of Alexandria, Elected most successful reunion in the history of the Alward-Tyler families was held at Buckeye Lake park. The day was ideal, the grounds admirably suited to the occasion, the baskets well-filled, and by 12 o'clock about 240 kinsmen were enjoying a good old-fashioned picnic dinner. The repeat over, the company proceeded to form a permanent organization, and the following officers were chosen:
R. F. Tyler, president, Alexandria, Ohio.
S. J. Alward, vice president, Pataskala, Ohio.
S. T. Buckland, secretary and treasurer, Hebron, Ohio.
N. G. White, corresponding secretary, Kirkersville, Ohio.
After a few remarks by the president, urging that the fine family spirit shown should be carried to those absent, the party proceeded to enjoy the various amusements of the park. A launch ride was the choice of many, the youngsters kept the merry-go-round busy, while some of the elders feeling young again even ventured to try the roller skates. In short, there was something for everyone and the day seemed but an hour when at evening the families separated with a good word and a glad hand for each other.
The next reunion is to be held August 20, 1908, at Buckeye Lake. Announcements will be sent to every family, and the corresponding secretary would like the address of every family who did not register at the last meeting. N. G. W.

WHITE WOLF HOTEL AFFAIR.

What Happened to the Saddle Drummer From the City of Brotherly Love Who Kicked Because Things Were Not to His Liking.

[Copyright, 1907, by M. M. Cunningham.]
Major Henderson of Lone Jack announces that he will shoot us on sight. We hope he will pay us the borrowed money he owes us first.

We have a communication from the Black Hand of New Mexico demanding that we put the sum of $1,000,000 under a certain stone within thirty days or suffer death.

KICKED BECAUSE HIS TABLE KNIFE HAD BEEN TAKEN TO LACK A HANDLE.

because the shine had worn off his teaspoon, and in the altercation resulting he was shot through the shoulder. Mine host, who is a new man from Idaho, shouldn't worry about such trifles. They are incidental to every busy community. The old landlord thought times were dull when he didn't pepper at least two kickers per week.

Bill Hope and Jack Downer of Grass Valley fired ten or twelve shots at each other on the street the other day without effect and were then arrested for disturbing the peace. The holy terror is a thing of the past, indeed.

We understand that a protest against us as postmaster has gone to Washington because of the horse race the other day in which we rode our own horse and came out ahead. It will be in vain. The postmaster general knows a good thing when he sees it, and we are a good thing.

Mr. William Lee of Chicago was here the other day looking for his son Henry, from whom he had not heard for a year. We aided the corner to look over his books, and it was discovered that the missing Henry was reposing under a yew tree over on Wolf creek. He got all mixed up on horses about six months ago.

We believe that if a thousand marriageable young women were brought out here from the east each and every one of them could find a husband within a week. We also believe that 999 of the thousand would wish they hadn't before the end of the first fortnight.

We did intend to lie about our circulation this week, but one thing and another has happened to call our mind elsewhere. Watch out for next week. We have got a hair raiser of a statement coming. For the moment it is enough to say that we are hitting the billion mark again and that the empress of China is writing us private letters and begging our advice as to how to run her old empire.

On Tuesday evening last at the meeting of the common council Alderman Finnegan denied our ruling that an amendment to a motion must be voted on first, and he started to draw to uphold his contention. He was slow, as usual, and when he found that we had him covered he sat down and subsided. The mayor who can't run a council with Cushman's Manual and a gun is a dead failure.

Our esteemed contemporary, whom we have not mentioned for the past two months, claims to have shot at us last Friday night as we were returning from a party on Cochise place. Perhaps he did. This is the first we have heard of the affair, but we don't want to wait a single leaf in his laurel crown.

Advertisements for the Kicker intended for our New Zealand edition of half a million should be handed in early in the week to assure publication. Copper mine advertisements should be written in such a way that they cannot be spotted as swindles at the first glance.

On the route to Grass Valley the snow is still from twenty to thirty feet deep in spots, but it is hoped that by July it will have settled down so that a tall man on a tall horse can make reasonably fair going of it. The past winter attended strictly to business for a hundred miles around Giveadam Gulch. There are icicles still hanging to some men's whiskers.

As Jim Hella, owner of the Hella Opera House, we wish to give the boys notice that next time they shoot out the kerosene lamps the performance on the stage will be stopped and the house closed for the night. We don't object to shooting at the lamps on broad and general principles, but when it is far handier to shoot at the actors why not do it? We do not like to see things run eternally in one groove.

A subscriber in Illinois who is evidently a minister of the gospel writes us that he shall certainly stop his paper unless future numbers show a more meek and humble spirit on our part. We do not want to lose him, but just let him come out here and practice the meek and humble business for a month! The boys are waiting for just such a person to come along. They want to make fans of his ears. We started in to be very meek and lowly, but soon discovered that we must either change or become a lead mine.

Colonel Gramont of the Circle ranch stopped his paper last week and sent us an insulting message because we refused to publish his ode to Columbus. As soon as we get time we shall ride out to the ranch, and we will bet two to one that we make the colonel crawl from his position. Columbus is all right in history, but we'll be hanged if he's going to get any free advertising out of us at this late day.

We are delivering our lecture on how to become a great editor wherever we have a call. It consists mostly of our personal experiences, and the humor and pathos appeal to all. Our terms are $25 and expenses, and we guarantee to satisfy an audience that any man with a fur overcoat and $20 in cash can in time become a great metropolitan editor and claim three or four million circulation for his daily. We sing no songs and execute no dances as an accompaniment. Straight talk and cash down.

If the individual who keeps sending us postal cards from Santa Fe to the effect that he is on our trail and bound to wipe us out will come along and have the circus over with, we will guarantee to pay his expenses. We hate to shiver for three or four months in anticipation. Any one will point out the Kicker office to him on his arrival. On entering turn to the right. As soon as entering the sanctum begin to shoot at the man at the desk.

BURGLARY IN LANSING BLOCK

Skeleton-key workers got in their work Friday night in the Lansing block and succeeded in gaining entrance to the office of Dr. P. M. O'Hara, dental surgeon. The would-be thieves went into the doctor's operating room and attempted to force a small safe in which office valuables are kept. The handles were broken off but the mechanism of the lock prevented the door from being opened and the contents were therefore safe when the doctor arrived at the office Saturday morning. In the safe was about $200 worth of gold used in the dental work beside $50 in cash. A small cabinet beside the safe was ransacked and all the drawers gone through but nothing of any great value was taken.

ICE SUPPLY HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED IN NEW YORK CITY

New York, June 29.—With its ice supply practically exhausted and future deliveries almost wholly cut off, the streets are veritable mountain ranges of filth and refuse and riots are raging wherever an attempt is made to relieve the situation. New York's health is so seriously threatened that the entire police reserve of the boroughs of Manhattan, Brooklyn and the Bronx were called on for duty this afternoon. The strike of the ice wagon drivers has been on but two days; the street cleaning tie-up is nearly a week old.

Baby Mine

Every mother feels a great dread of the pain and danger attendant upon the most critical period of her life. Becoming a mother should be a source of joy to all, but the suffering and danger incident to the ordeal makes its anticipation one of misery. Mother's Friend is the only remedy which relieves women of the great pain and danger of maternity; this hour which is dreaded at woman's severest trial is not only made painless, but all the danger is avoided by its use. Those who use this remedy are no longer despondent or gloomy; nervousness, nausea and other distressing conditions are overcome, the system is made ready for the coming event, and the serious accidents so common to the critical hour are obviated by the use of Mother's Friend. "It is worth its weight in gold," says many who have used it. $1.00 per bottle at drug stores. in Pittsburg and in this city. A large number of students were expected and from present appearances the anticipations of those interested will not be disappointed.

Dr. King, the faculty, and a number of students arrived here from Pittsburg on Wednesday last. Since then the students have continued to arrive by every train and many more are expected. A glance at the regis-rank in other arts and professions. Some of the ministers will no doubt be heard in local pulpits before the closing of the session. Among the names enrolled are those of some well known readers and public speakers who will be quickly and favorably recalled when their names appear on the programs of the school. There are the names of school men from Utah, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, South Dakota,

The faculty has been enlarged for the summer by the addition of graduates of the school who have been successful in various lines of work in other schools, colleges and seminaries or on the platform. Byron W. King has been on the platform longer than any other public speaker now appearing before American audiences. He has achieved a reputation for his eloquence in almost every state of the Union, and he has attracted to his school students from every section of the country he has ever visited. He is well known to all in Newark, and received a hearty welcome when he made his appearance on the platform of Taylor Hall last Wednesday evening. His versatility is extraordinary and as he will be heard as lecturer, teacher, entertainer and actor during these three weeks

MISS BERTHA FUHRER.

Miss Helen Miller divided her time between literary pursuits and the stage since leaving King's School of Oratory. Prof. David Bush is head of the Oratorical work at Oakland City College, Oakland City, Ind. Prof. L. E. York has delighted the students with his excellent talks on psychology. Prof. York was president of Duquesne College and since then has declined the presidency of another college, preferring public schools and institute lecturing. He is leaving Barnesville for Martin's Ferry.

Miss Olive M. King will have charge of the musical department. She is a pianist of taste and distinction.

The sessions of the regular classes will be held each morning from 9 to 12 at the Central school building. Those of our citizens who are familiar with this work and the practical value of it will be welcomed as visitors.

Many will no doubt be surprised to find that it is not intended merely for those who wish to become professional elocutionists, but it is of practical value to business men, lawyers, teachers and all who are active either in business or society.

A Bible and Hymn reading class, designated for clergymen, Sunday school teachers and church workers will begin Monday at 2 p. m. Dr. King invites all to visit this first meeting.

The students' recitals will be held at the Central school Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons at 4 o'clock. These recitals are free and all are invited. An admission fee of ten cents will be charged for the recitals at Taylor Hall.

Among the plays scheduled are "Othello," "Taming of the Shrew," "Merchant of Venice," "Hamlet," "As You Like It," "Romeo and Juliet," "Richard III" and the rural drama "Valley Farm." These plays will be produced at Taylor Hall and effort will be made to insure a successful performance.

Perhaps the least conspicuous but one of the most important departments of the school is that for the cure of defective speech. Dr. King has certainly made himself master of methods for the cure of these distressing difficulties. Dr. King will gladly talk with any one who is interested in this line of work. The instruction is private.

Among teachers and students are represented many arts and professions so that any one wishing special tutoring or instruction may have the advantage of first class teachers during the stay of King's School of Oratory in Newark.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The business men's hike last night was a great success, regardless of the rain, and it was voted to have another the middle of July.

The Bible Teachers' Normal class which meets Tuesday night at the Y. M. C. A., has an exceedingly interesting lesson for next Tuesday. The subject for study is the "Relation of the Mind to the Body and Spirit." Some of the Sunday schools are not represented in the class. It is hoped that every male teacher will take advantage of this splendid opportunity to prepare himself for better work.

The Gypsy Hikers are in keen anticipation of the coming time. The Newark crowd of older boys will join the Columbus, Dayton and Springfield crowds here next Tuesday afternoon. The younger boys, from 14 to 17, start on their trip July 15. There are a few vacancies in each party and there is a chance yet for any boys to get in on one of these great trips.

The tennis men are warming up and many schedules are being arranged for next week. If anybody wanting a game will telephone in to the office an opponent will be secured for them. Tournaments will be arranged for shortly, as soon as the men get in better practice.

The courts will be busy all day the 11th. Games are already being scheduled for that day. Any men wanting to learn the game or get in to a contest can get an engagement by applying at the office.

An 8-number lecture course has been booked for the coming season. The policy of the committee has been to secure only high grade attractions. All the numbers are star attractions. Among other strong numbers are John Temple Graves, Chicago Glee club and Ralph Parlette. An effort is being made to secure Wm. Jennings Bryan also.

The business and professional men's outing planned by the physical director of the Y. M. C. A. for last night proved a pleasant affair, regardless of the rain.

The party left the Y. M. C. A. shortly after 5:30 in a special omnibus. "Back to nature" was the theme of the trip and the fresh country air and green fields were hilariously enjoyed.

The climax of the trip was to have been a plunge in the old swimming hole, to be followed by a fish supper in the woods.

Owing to the threatening clouds, the party decided to take a shower bath instead of the swim. This in no whit lessened the appetite, and through the kind hospitality of Mr. McMillen, west of town, the evening and fish supper were enjoyed at his home. The crowd arrived home on the 10 o'clock Granville car.

The pleasure of the trip and the loss of the swim only whetted a desire to try the plan again and it was decided to go for another hike in a few weeks.

AMUSEMENTS

IDLEWILDE PARK CASINO.

The Grahame Stock company opens its second week's engagement at Idlewilde with a matinee performance tomorrow of a new comedy drama, "Her First False Step." The same play will be continued Sunday, Monday and Tuesday nights. For Wednesday and Thursday evenings, the play will be "The Police Alarm," and the company closes its engagement with "Treasure Island" the latter part of the week.

In each play will be given an entirely new line of specialties, in connection with which it may be said that the vaudeville numbers carried by this organization are exceptionally clever.

The Grahame Stock Co. has earned the reputation of giving the most pleasing entertainments ever seen at Idlewilde and the business has been phenomenally large. A special 11th of July matinee will be given of "Wynning," with new specialties interspersed between acts.

ORPHEUM THEATER.

Manager Baum announces the closing of the theater for the summer months tonight. The two performances will be the final ones.

Next season the house will open, booking the best American and European novelties in the country.

The management wishes to thank the Newark theatergoers for their patronage since the opening.

CARRIAGES HIRED BY FOUR STRANGERS

Identified by Vanest, Who Was Whitcapped—The Victim Now
a Nervous Wreck.

Columbus, Ind., June 29.—The physician attending Thomas Vanest, who was white-capped Sunday night, said yesterday that his patient was a nervous wreck and that his mind was becoming affected from the shock of the assault.

Governor Hanley and Attorney General Bingham have taken up the investigation and a new clue was discovered which is believed to be a valuable one.

It was learned that on the afternoon preceding the whitecapping four strangers arrived at Helmsburg on the Abe Martin special over the Indianapolis Southern road and were driven to Nashville, where they took supper at a hotel but refused to register.

They refused to divulge their names and would hold no conversation with any one. After supper they hired two carriages, which they did not enter until after passing beyond the limits of the town. Before daylight on the night of the whitecapping the carriages were returned to the barn and the strangers left town.

Vanest has identified the carriages as the ones in which the whitecappers went to his home. These four strangers with the five men already arrested are thought to complete the list of nine that Vanest says assaulted him.

DAY'S BUSINESS IN COURT HOUSE

The case of Emily Hampshire vs. Oliver Hampshire, in which Mrs. Hampshire charged her husband with having failed to pay her alimony to the amount of $25 per month, ordered by the court, and which has been on trial in the probate court, created considerable interest, and there was quite a large attendance during the hearing of the case. The court, after hearing all the evidence and arguments of the counsel, found that the evidence showed that Hampshire had been in receipt of about $64 a month during the current year, which was paid from Paul & Montgomery, for whom he worked, and that he had persistently refused to pay the alimony to his wife. The court found him guilty of contempt of court, committed him to the custody of the sheriff, to be confined in the county jail until he purges himself of the contempt by complying with the order of the court and suspended the sentence for fifteen days in order to give him an opportunity to comply with the order. After the decision of the court the attorneys for the defendant, S. L. James and J. A. Flory, filed a motion for a new trial, which was overruled. They then gave notice of filing a bill of exceptions.

Probate Court News.

Application has been made to probate the last will and testament of Agnes L. Deary, deceased, of Utica, and the hearing has been set for Saturday, July 6, at 9 o'clock.

Police Officer Henry Wirlarch came into the juvenile court, bringing with him a number of boys who had been playing ball in Moul's lane, and who had finally rounded up in a fight. One of the boys was also charged by the officer with having insulted him. The court administered a severe reprimand to the boys and told them to behave themselves in the future, or they would get into trouble.

In Common Pleas.

In the case of A. A. Stasel, receiver of the Newark Savings Bank Co., vs. Wm. E. Miller, et al., being a suit on a promissory note for $1510, which resulted in a verdict for defendants, the court Saturday morning overruled the motion for a new trial. The case will go to the Circuit court. Stasel, Flory & Flory; Hunter, Kibler & Montgomery.

BOXWELL EXERCISES HELD AT HEBRON

The Boxwell commencement exercises were held last evening in the Odd Fellows hall, Hebron, O. Eleven scholars, nine girls and two boys, passed with honors the special examination entitling them to free tuition in any high school each may elect to attend. Splendid recitations were given by the successful pupils, after which Rev. T. A. Cosgrove of the Second Presbyterian church of Newark gave an address. Rev. Mr. Tibbles opened and closed the meeting with prayer.

Fine music was furnished by the choral society of Hebron. Mr. Kirk acted as chairman. The exercises were very successful in every way, about three hundred being present. After the benediction the Ladies' Aid society served refreshments.

RECEPTION GIVEN TO RETIRING PASTOR

A grand reception was given Friday evening at the Central Church of Christ, to Rev. and Mrs. H. Newton Miller. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers, and about three hundred members were present.

A social time was had by everybody until about 9 o'clock, when refreshments were served. This was followed by an address by O. C. Larson, who presented Mr. and Mrs. Miller with two large leather chairs, and the 2-year-old son Edwin, with a spoon.

The evening was closed by a talk by Rev. Miller in which he most deeply thanked the members of the church for their most beautiful gifts.

Rev. Miller is to leave Monday for Cleveland, to accept a position as secretary of the Ohio Christian Mission society.

ACCIDENTAL, NOT CRIMINAL

Nonunion Miner's Opinion Of the Vindicator Explosion.

IS A WITNESS FOR HAYWOOD

Easterly and Others Swear They Heard Orchard Threaten to Kill
Frank Steunenberg For the Hercules Affair—One Man Who Did Not Take State's Star Witness Seriously.

Boise, Ida., June 29.—In the trial of William Haywood additional testimony was offered to show that Harry Orchard killed Steunenberg for the loss of his interest in Hercules mine. William Easterly, who concluded his testimony, and D. C. Copely both swore that they heard Orchard tell of the loss of the Hercules mine and threaten to kill Steunenberg for it. On cross-examination the state scored them both and particularly Easterly, who received two letters and one telephone message from Orchard on the eve of the killing of Steunenberg, for remaining quiet when they knew a crime might be committed. Easterly contended that he did not know Steunenberg lived at Caldwell and explained that although he knew "Thomas Hogan" was Harry Orchard he took no steps immediately after the crime except to consult counsel for the federation, because he was not an informer, and Copely asserted that he did not take Orchard seriously when they met in San Francisco and he told him of the Bradley crime.

Counsel for the defense directly attacked the Vindicator explosion with the testimony of a witness that made it appear accidental rather than criminal. Thomas Wood, a non-unionist who entered the Vindicator mine as a timber man after the strike began, swore that the night before the explosion he placed a box containing 25 pounds of giant powder at the shaft of the eighth level. He saw the powder the next morning shortly after 10 o'clock and a few minutes later Superintendent McCormick and Foreman Beck came to the eighth level. They remained but a short time and left to go to the sixth level where they were killed. Wood swore that when he reached the shaft 20 minutes later the powder was gone and it was reasonable inference that McCormick and Beck took it with them. Wood said that he had seen a revolver in Beck's pocket, that the fragments of only one revolver was found in the sixth level and that the bodies of McCormick and Beck were blown apart, indicating that the explosion had occurred between them. Orchard said that he fixed a revolver with a wire attachment so that when the safety bar was raised it would send a bullet in the giant powder he had placed. One witness for the state swore that he later found a wire attached to the safety bar, but Wood, who was among the first to reach the sixth level after the explosion, said that he carefully examined the safety bar and found nothing attached to it. Wood gave his testimony in a clear and forceful manner and told a thrilling story of the climb to safety of the men cut off by the explosion, below the sixth level.

There was a further showing as to the work of the bloodhounds at Independence, which the defense declares were sent first to the house of a deputy sheriff and then down the road that Orchard took in his flight to Denver and on to Wyoming, and denials and redentials from Easterly and Copely of any form of misconduct on the part of members of the Western Federation of Miners.

Count Heyden Dead.
Moscow, June 29.—Count Peter Heyden is dead. He was a member of the first Russian parliament, founder of the Peaceful Regeneration party, leader of the zemstvo movement which preceded the convocation of the first parliament, and headed the delegation which was sent to Emperor Nicholas by the zemstvo congress of 1905, held in this city. For a number of years Count Heyden had been one of the leaders of the Moderate Liberal element in Russia, upholding the autocracy but advocating a parliament. He was born 60 years ago.

Ten Killed in Wreck.
Winnipeg, Man., June 29.—A report has been received here that two Canadian Pacific railway express trains, numbers 1 and 95, were in collision near Kenora, Ont., and that 10 persons were killed.

Panic in Theater.
Chicago, June 29.—The blowing out of a fuse in the kinetoscope machine operated in the gallery of the Chicago Opera House caused a panic among the occupants of the balcony beneath. As soon as the explosion occurred the lights in the theater were turned on full and the employees went among the patrons to quiet their fears, but many persons, fearing an experience like that of a former theater disaster in Chicago, fled from the place. The only person hurt was the operator of the machine, and his injuries were not serious.

Telegraphers to Stay Out.
San Francisco, June 29.—When asked about the telegraphers' strike, General Superintendent Storer of the Postal Telegraph company said that the situation was very satisfactory. Business was not behind and telegrams were not delayed. Superintendent May of the Western Union said that the situation was clearing itself. More were going to work daily, and business was being handled without serious trouble or delay. That the telegraphers intend to stay out until a satisfactory adjustment of their grievances has been reached is evidenced by the recommendation of the general secretary-treasurer of the international union that another assessment will be levied Aug. 1 to increase the strike fund.

MADE APPEAL

To Each Juror to Place Himself in the Position of Judge William C.
Loving.

Houston, Va., June 29.—Arguments of the attorneys in the trial of former Judge William C. Loving for the murder of Theodore Estes were heard by a crowd that packed the courtroom. Attorney Harmon for the prosecution and Attorney Strode for the defense spoke for an hour and a half each. Mr. Harmon in his address sought to show that Judge Loving killed Estes after "deliberation, premeditation and upon reflection," and that the defendant was a sane and responsible man at the time of the killing, thus making the offense murder in the first degree. Attorney Strode, who followed, based his plea almost exclusively on the unwritten law. He discussed Judge Loving's struggles against the whiskey habit, the buggy ride and the testimony of the insanity experts. He appealed to each juror to place himself in the same position as Judge Loving.

SIR WALTER RALEIGH'S "LOST COLONY" FOUND IN THE CROATAN INDIANS.

"The Lost Colony of Roanoke," familiar to every student of American history as a band of 117 men and women sent into the wilds of Virginia by Sir Walter Raleigh and which vanished utterly from the ken of the mother country, has been found. The direct descendants of the band around which has hung a pall of mystery for more than three centuries are, according to Alexander Hume Ford, in the current number of Appleton's Magazine, now living in the little village of Red Springs, Robeson county, North Carolina.

The story of Raleigh's lost colony furnishes one of the most weird and fascinating chapters in the history of America. In 1587 100 men and 17 women were sent to Virginia with

Two Thousand Drivers of Wagons
On Strike In New York.

MEN OFFER TO ARBITRATE

Attempt to Be Made to Break the Strike of Two Thousand Ice-Wagon
Drivers — Unpleasant Days Passed
By the Residents of the Great Metropolis.

New York, June 29.—Believing that the health of the city was menaced by the continuation of the strike of drivers of garbage wagons, Mayor McClellan went over the head of the commissioner of street cleaning, Mr. Craven, and placed the responsibility for the collection of garbage with the health department. A strike of drivers for the American Ice company also went into effect, and with garbage on the sidewalk and no ice in many refrigerators New York residents passed an unpleasant summer day. Craven had been unable to break the strike of the 2,000 men, whose duties are to gather and deliver at the public dump the big cans of refuse set out by householders, and the situation had become acute. For three days the streets of the East Side and lower West Side have been strewn with rapidly decaying kitchen waste.

The American Ice company will attempt to break the strike of the 2,000 drivers, who quit work following a demand for an increase in the wages of helpers. One-half of the usual number of teams will be started out if the company's plans are successful. Should they fail, as the strikers declare will be the case, the situation from the consumer's standpoint will be serious. On the lower East Side there is much suffering. The independent companies furnish about one-fourth of the total amount consumed, and could not supply the demand if they would. The American Ice company asserts that the only grievance of the strikers is the inability of the latter to compel the company to employ only union help.

Later the garbage strikers offered to arbitrate. The men claim that unjust fines of from five to ten days' pay are imposed for minor infractions of the department rules, and that they are given no opportunity to refute the charges against them. The question of hours also enters into the controversy.

LINCOLN BEACHEY MAKES MOST SUCCESSFUL FLIGHT HIGH ABOVE NEW YORK.

New York, June 29.—After one of the most successful and entertaining trips ever made above the sky scrapers of New York, Lincoln Beachey, an aeronaut of Toledo, Ohio, landed with his dirigible balloon on a spindle in the sunken meadows opposite 118th street, wrecking his gas bag and machinery, and having a narrow escape from drowning.

Beachey is the young man who surprised Washington by sailing around the dome of the White House last June. He is a very matter of fact person and sees only the practical side of air navigation. After he had been rescued from his uncomfortable plight yesterday he was asked to tell what his impressions were while sailing above the city.

"I never bother with impressions," he said. "I have my hands full keeping track of the motor and in looking out for tramp currents."

The entire craft weighs 250 pounds.

TRAVELERS UNVEIL FINE MONUMENT TO CHAS. B. FLAGG

HE WAS THE FIRST SECRETARY OF UNITED COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS.

Christian Endeavorers in Columbus—
General News of the Buckeye
State Briefly Told.

Columbus, O., June 29.—A monument to the memory of the late Charles Benton Flagg, the first secretary of the order of United Commercial Travelers, was unveiled in Goodale park. The monument, which was erected by contributions, was accepted by Supreme Counsellor M. W. Peebles of New York on behalf of the order, and the oration of the day was delivered by Judge John E. Sater of Columbus. By succession in office J. C. Hunt of Lexington, Ky., will become supreme counsellor; M. J. Hemmens of Green Bay, Wis., supreme junior counsellor; W. D. Murphy of Terre Haute, Ind., supreme conductor, and G. W. Rodgers of St. Paul, supreme page.

Chapman Elected President.
Columbus, O., June 29.—Horace L. Chapman, who was recently elected president of the Sundry Creek coal company temporarily to succeed John H. Winder, resigned, was elected to serve for one year. The management of the company will devolve largely upon executive committee, which is to be increased to five members with E. A. Cole as chairman. H. H. Heiner was re-elected first vice president in charge of sales, and N. D. Monsarrat was elected second vice president in charge of mines. C. A. Snyder was re-elected secretary-treasurer and S. W. Gilliland auditor. The Sunday creek company is the second largest bituminous coal producing company in the country.

Work of Endeavorers.
Columbus, O., June 29.—The Christian Endeavor convention awarded Cuyahoga county the banner for the largest increase in societies. Montgomery county got the missionary banner and Wyandot and Montgomery counties were given banners for the best junior work. Resolutions were adopted endorsing the Anti-Saloon league, the county local option law, woman's suffrage on the temperance question, and urging better observance of the Sabbath.

Woman Burned.
Oxford, O., June 29.—Mrs. William Vaughn, 60, wife of a farmer living near Mixville, near here, attempted to light a fire with coal oil. Her clothing ignited and she ran screaming into the yard. Her husband was working in the garden and tore her clothing from her. She is terribly burned about the body and arms, but there is hope of her recovery.

Was Despondent.
Marietta, O., June 29.—John J. Pfeiffer, restaurant waiter, hanged himself in the basement of his home. His wife found the body and assisted by her little boys cut it down. Pfeiffer had been a resident of the city for five years. He had had domestic troubles and recently his 14-year-old son ran away. This seemed to prey upon the father's mind.

Professor Thomas Evans Dead.
Cincinnati, O., June 29.—Professor Thomas B. Evans of the University of Cincinnati, who had just been granted a year's leave of absence for the benefit of his health, died at his home in this city. Professor Evans has filled the chair of organic chemistry for several years, prior to which he was with the Boston school of technology and other eastern institutions.

Davis and Fowler Must Die.
Columbus, O., June 29.—The supreme court overruled the motions for leave to file petitions in error in the cases of Albert Davis vs. The State, Clark county, and Roy Fowler vs. The State, Montgomery county. Both of the plaintiffs in error are murderers and are now in the annex awaiting execution.

Merger of Farmhands.
Hamilton, O., June 29.—On the eve of the wheat harvest the labor situation has become serious. It became known that the farmhands near Darrtown have formed a combination and refuse to work in the harvest fields for less than $3 a day. Farmers say they can not pay this and will try to get outside help.

Caught Between Cars.
Columbus, O., June 29.—While at work in the local Big Four railroad yards near Lincoln street, E. P. Cummings, a conductor of a switching crew in the employ of that railroad, was caught between two cars and instantly killed.

JOSEPH H. CHOATE DELIVERS SPEECH AT PEACE CONGRESS

The Hague, June 29.—The sitting of the first committee of the peace conference afforded an opportunity for Joseph H. Choate, the American delegate, to deliver a long and eloquent speech upholding the principle of the exemption of all private property except contraband from capture on the high sea. The success obtained by his speech left the impression that the American proposition, which in the conference of 1899 was only taken for consideration, this time will be approved unanimously.

Submarine Mines.
The Hague, June 29.—Various amendments have been presented to the British proposal, now before the subcommittee on maritime war of the peace conference, on the subject of submarine mines, all aimed at diminishing danger in the event of mines becoming derelict. Japan suggests that only mines which are ineffective after a limited time be used, and Italy proposes that an apparatus be attached to floating mines, making them ineffective an hour after they get adrift and that fixed mines be rendered useless as soon as they break loose.

AS TO COMPETENCY OF MRS. EDDY A MASTER APPOINTED

Concord, N. H., June 29.—Judge Edgar Aldrich of Littleton was appointed master to determine the competency of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy by Judge Chamberlain of the supreme court. The master is named in connection with the suit brought by Mrs. Eddy's son, G. W. Glover of Lead, S. D., and others as "new friends" for an accounting of Mrs. Eddy's property. He is directed to ascertain, determine and report the fact whether Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy was capable of intelligently managing, controlling and conducting her financial affairs and property interests March 1, 1907, and during such time before that date as may to the master seem reasonable. No limitations are to be made as to the evidence to be introduced.

CANAL WORK TAFT'S THEME

It May Yet Be Given Out Under Private Contract.

GOETHALS TO SUBMIT VIEWS

Reports That Dissatisfaction Exists
Among the Canal Officials and Men Stoutly Denied by the Secretary of War, Who Also Refers to Recent Resignations.

Washington, June 29.—From a statement made by Secretary Taft it is inferred that the whole or a portion of the work on the canal may yet be given out for construction under private contract. This question was considered very fully by the president and the secretary last winter, but it was decided at that time not to accept any of the bids which had been submitted for doing the work in that way. Colonel Goethals is under instructions from the department to submit his views on this subject, with a view to their presentation at the coming session of congress. Secretary Taft said that the method now in vogue of settling labor disputes on the isthmus, which contemplates the reference of these matters to certain persons, had worked very satisfactorily.

Mr. Taft was questioned about the work on the canal. He replied:

"The work in Panama appears to be progressing finely. It is true that in a recent month the excavations made under Colonel Goethals were 150,000 cubic yards less than under his predecessor, but this was due to a strike and to other causes beyond his control. Colonel Goethals will have all the help in the way of army officers he may need with a view to the thoroughness of the work he has in hand."

"What about David W. Ross, the retiring general discharging agent?" was asked the secretary. "Mr. Ross' resignation was not asked for," the secretary replied. "His work has been in every way satisfactory, and he was one of the most efficient officers we ever had. Because of his private business Mr. Ross wanted to leave this commission on the first of June. I wanted him to stay at least until the 15th of July."

Mr. Taft also declared that the resignation of Engineer Ripley was voluntary. "He and Colonel Goethals did not agree as to the character of some works under way on the isthmus, and Mr. Ripley retired," said the secretary. "He had been engaged in the designing of some locks. Nor has General Manager Bird of the Panama railroad resigned, as has been reported. Mr. Bird is one of the most useful men we have on the isthmus, being at the head of all the transportation work we have there. If Jackson Smith, the commissioner who has charge of all the labor on the isthmus, has resigned," continued the secretary, "I don't know it. There is no truth so far as I know in the reports of his resignation, and I think I would know it." Secretary Taft added none of the three army officers, Lieutenant Colonel Goethals and Majors Gallard and Sibert, had recently applied for leave of absence. "The president promised the army officers when they took up their work on the isthmus," said Secretary Taft, "that they should have ample leave of absence, no less than four months, in fact, every year, so arranging their affairs that one might readily take up the work when another was absent. I don't know where it all comes from," added Secretary Taft. "They have gathered a lot of circumstances having no connection with each other and have put the whole thing together as an evidence that dissatisfaction exists. I reiterate that the statements are not true."

PROMOTERS HELD, Charged With Using the Mails For Fraudulent Purposes.

St. Paul, June 29.—Lewin A. Wood, G. W. Wood, Bruce D. Tuttle and Martin P. Quigley were arrested by United States deputy marshals on warrants charging them with using the United States mails for fraudulent purposes. Warrants also are out for the arrest of Charles T. Kelley and Clinton D. Phelps of St. Paul and E. P. Farnsberger of Superior, Wis., on a similar charge. The warrants charge that these men, who were promoters and officers of the Wisconsin Grain and Stock company, with offices in St. Paul, and promoters and managers of the Superior board of trade of Superior, Wis., conspired in an alleged cheat in the use of the mail in violation of law. The government alleges that the record of the losses sustained through the medium of the operations of the concern so far reported reach the sum of $342,000.

SPECIAL ELECTIONS

To Be Called to Fill Vacancies In the Legislature.

FOUR VACANT SEATS IN HOUSE

Elections Will Doubtless Be Held the Regular Election Day in November. Supreme Court Holds That It Is a Criminal Offense to Sell Liquor in Dry Territory—Ohio Affairs.

Columbus, O., June 29.—Four special elections will be called by the governor to fill vacancies in the lower house of the legislature. These vacancies are in Ashtabula, Clermont, Lawrence and Licking counties, resulting from the election of Representative W. A. Ashbrook of Licking to congress; the election of the speaker, Carmi A. Thompson of Lawrence, to the secretary of state; the appointment of Representative B. W. Baldwin of Ashtabula, chairman of the house finance committee, to be a member of the state board of public works, and the death of Representative Stevens of Clermont county.

WARREN G. HARDING.

Ashbrook's retirement from the legislature leaves 56 Democrats; the other three vacancies reduced the Republican membership to 59, and there are two independents.

It is quite probable that the special elections in the four counties will be appointed for the regular election day in November.

A rumor originating at Cincinnati, where Warren G. Harding, the Marion editor and former lieutenant governor of Ohio, was one of the speakers at the annual convention of Ohio bankers, says that Mr. Harding may be a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor next year. Mr. Harding desired the nomination in 1903, when it was given to Myron T. Herrick practically without contest. Part of the story as sent out from Cincinnati follows:

"Mr. Foraker has not let it become known positively whom he will favor, but it is known that he would be glad to see Harding get the governorship. Harding wants to be governor. He does not deny it; he would take the nomination tomorrow if it were tendered him, but he is not saying or doing anything that would conflict with the aspirations of his long-time chief, Mr. Foraker, who is said to be favorable to his candidacy. He would not make an announcement, but if Senators Foraker and Dick control the next Republican state convention, Harding, it is said, will stand a good show to have his ambitions realized."

Under a recent decision of the supreme court of Ohio, it is a criminal offense for any person to conduct a saloon, run a speakeasy or give away liquor in dry districts. A saloon keeper in Erie county attempted to evade the law in a dry township by giving liquor away. He was arrested and entered a plea of not guilty, setting up the defense that inasmuch as the goods he disposed of were his own and he did not collect money for them, he could not be prosecuted. The court in charging the jury sustained this contention, and exceptions to the ruling were taken by the prosecution, which the supreme court sustained.

Waiving aside the questions of uniformity of operation, equal rights, etc., raised in the case of Martin Doering against the city of Cincinnati, and involving the constitutionality of the Jones local option law, the supreme court before adjourning Friday for the summer vacation, announced a decision affirming the validity of the law on the ground that under Section 18 and the general police powers, the legislature had the right to enact the law. The surprising feature of the decision was the frank announcement from the bench that the court was not agreed whether there was no limitation of the powers of the legislature in the enactment of laws.

Several weeks ago in cases arising in Franklin county, the supreme court held that such property as parsonages owned by churches are not exempt from taxation. The cases were on relation of the auditor of Franklin county against John A. Watterton, bishop of the Catholic diocese of Columbus. The decision applied to all churches alike, Catholic, Protestant or Jewish. The supreme court granted a motion to reopen the case for oral argument when the court convenes after the summer vacation. Attorney General Ellis made application in supreme court for a rehearing in reference to the powers of boards of tax review as decided by the supreme court recently, which was to the effect that such boards are without authority to change valuations placed on realty by the decennial appraisal. The attorney general contends that where the market value of property had increased during the decennial period, by virtue of territorial expansion of a city, or other circumstances, boards of review should be clothed with power to place such properties on the tax duplicate at a higher valuation.

Growing out of the long drawn-out effort to save the life of James Connolly, who was electrocuted at the penitentiary Friday morning for uxoricide, Governor Harris has decided that hereafter he will sit with the pardon board when it is considering applications in cases of persons under death sentence. The governor believes that if he goes into the case directly with the pardon board time will be saved to the attorneys and unnecessary mental anguish spared the condemned man, while the executive review will be just as thorough as if taken up at the conclusion of the pardon board's labors.

Acting on advice of attorney general's department, Governor Harris informed a delegation of members of the Law and Order league of Marion that it was out of his power to remove from office Sheriff Esten E. Brown of Marion county. The league urged the governor to take such drastic action because the sheriff refused to enforce the state law against Sunday saloons and baseball in the territory outside of the city of Marion. It was held by the supreme court in a case of like nature several years ago that the only way of proceeding against a sheriff who fails to perform his duty in a criminal case is through the local courts. Such officer may be arraigned and fined or imprisoned, and, upon such conviction the court may remove him from office. The case cannot be reached by quo warranto proceedings.

Some objection was raised to the assignment of Allen O. Myers as a speaker at farmers' institute, where he usually devotes his time to a discussion of alfalfa. None of the older portion of the present generation need be told who Allen O. Myers is, but the younger generation that is just above knee-high want to know that he once was a representative of Franklin county in the legislature and for years a newspaper writer of great prominence. In reply to criticisms of his remarks on alfalfa at agricultural institutes the imperturbable Allen O. said: "I am not a scientific farmer. Out of a total of 289,000 farmers in Ohio only 2,000 are scientific. Half of them, like myself, make an honest living by attending strictly to their business on rented lands. They want to know the most practical way of doing things, not the theoretical way. I thought when I left politics and quit journalism and went out into the country to lead a quiet life that I would be let alone, but I am being punished for my sins as a newspaper man and politician."

In addition to the state's homecoming at Columbus during the State fair week, Cincinnati and Canton are arranging for homecomings. Invitations bearing the signature of Governor Harris are being sent out to former Ohioans in all parts of the country. The governor refers to the phenomenal growth of the state during the past decade and says those who have been absent during that period can form no adequate description of the transformation that has taken place unless they come back and see for themselves. The governor will attend and speak at the Cincinnati and Canton celebrations.

In urging the people of Ohio to exercise exceeding care to prevent Fourth of July fires, the state fire marshal, D. S. Creamer, in an official circular called attention to the fact that last year $20,000 worth of property was destroyed, besides the loss of several lives through the careless handling of fireworks in celebrating the Glorious Fourth. Several fires started from rubbish into which fireworks fell, and for that reason he advised a thorough cleaning up of basements and the premises generally before the Fourth.

One action of the state convention at Columbus of the Christian Endeavor society that may have considerable bearing on Ohio politics in future was the endorsement of the Anti-Saloon league. The convention pledged its support to the county local option bill now pending in the general assembly, and also to the bill giving women the voting privilege in local option elections. Governor Harris was complimented on his stand in favor of temperance and good citizenship.

Some of the leading educators of the state have been secured for speakers at the institutes for Ohio teachers in July, August and September. E. A. Jones, state commissioner of common schools, has completed the bulletin for these institutes, copies of which will be forwarded to secretaries of the institutes for distribution.

ENDOWS INSTITUTE OF PATHOLOGY WITH $300,444 AND DESIGNATES FIVE NOTED PHYSICIANS TO MAKE RESEARCHES.

MRS. RUSSELL SAGE.

New York, June 29 — Asserting that the endowment of the Russell Sage Institute of Pathology will be one of the greatest helps to the scientific research of disease that have ever been given by any individual, physicians and scientists throughout the country are today loudly praising the beneficence of the widow of the financier, who gave $300,000 for carrying out of the work. The institution is to be attached to the City

With the exception of the gift of Baron von Senkenburg to the City hospital of Frankfurt, Germany, this is the only instance of a city institution being supported by a co-operative fund supplied from private beneficence and municipal resources for scientific research. While all diseases will be studied at the institute those incident to old age will be given particular attention.

OIL AND GAS NOTES

The Central Ohio well on the Riley Cramer farm in McKean township was drilled in last week and was so light it hardly paid to tube it, however it was.

The ten million well drilled in a few days ago is but a few miles from the first well drilled in the Homer field, and is only a few miles from a line from a pump station at Homer to the one at Bangs.

The John Smith well in the McKean field is down over 1700 feet and the drillers are doing their best to bring it in by the Fourth of July. The drillers on the Channel farm are trying to do the same thing.

We are informed that the Heisey Co. has driven stakes for two wells on the L. A. Woodard 100-acre farm (formerly the Richards and Sheldon) in the Granville township west field. This farm lies directly south of well No. 3 on John Montgomery's farm.

Very light was the Ohio Fuel well on the Fred Smith farm in the McKean field which came in Tuesday. There was about 25 feet of hard sand. The well was shot and now produces about one-half million.

The Logan has been busy stringing 16-inch pipe north of Granville the past week. The south terminus of the line has never been announced but it is predicted the line will run to Sugar Grove and eventually go the West Virginia fields.

A new pump station will be built by the Central Ohio this summer two miles east of Appleton, in Pennington township, instead of McKean. It was reported. The engines will be operated by gas.

The Bennington company has drilled in on the Laver base in a oilon township, getting a one million well.

Dr. Janeway called attention to the fact that while there has been a pathological laboratory at the City hospital there has been no pathologist. up on the Frank Carpenter farm in the McKean field for the Crawford Gas company.

Drillers on the E. J. Case well on Bug street struck water close to the bottom of the line Tuesday. Casing will be necessary.

Five new wells have recently been located just south of Fredonia, one each by the Ohio Fuel, Central Ohio, Everett and Columbus Natural Gas. Samuel Congdon, a driller for the Ohio Fuel Co. at Homer, was severely burned about the hands and face by an explosion of gas in the engine near which he was working.

The Central Ohio Gas Co. is prepared to build a pumping station on the Dumbauld place near Johnstown. The Jackson Oil and Gas Co. has made a location on the John A. Higgenbotham farm in Morgan township, Knox county. The drilling will be done by Contractors Broughton & Huntsberger, and work begun Monday.

Three more gas engines and compressors will be added to the Ohio Fuel pump station at Homer this fall. This will give them a duplicate plant. These engines weigh just 3,000 tons apiece.

Well No. 2 of the Rushville Gas and Oil company has been drilled at a depth of about 2300 feet. The well is another gusher and flows about 50 barrels of oil a day.

THE BEST BEER-CHAMPAGNE VELVET

In beer, as in anything else, there is but one "best". It is a case of one in a class—there is room for no other.

Champagne Velvet has, since its introduction, steadfastly maintained its supremacy over all other bottled beers, until to-day it is taxing the capacity of the largest brewery in Indiana to keep up with the popular demand.

The next time you order a bottle of beer join the procession and insist on getting the best—insist on getting Champagne Velvet. And let this be your reminder to have a case sent to your home.

rels of oil a day. The regular oil rock has not been struck yet. It is expected to yield 75 barrels a day. The first well was drilled several weeks ago and is producing 60 barrels a day. It is the best grade of oil in the state and equal to any in the country. Both wells are on Mrs. Mary Winegardner's farm. There is enough gas in each well to make them flow without pumping. The Standard Oil company has piped the oil to Miller's siding and is paying $1.75 a barrel for it.

The Rector well east of Vanattas was at a standstill all last week till Friday, while a fishing job was in progress. On Monday word came that the tools had reached a depth of close to 1600 feet, with probably 450 feet more necessary to complete it.

MUSICAL AUTOMOBILE.

Milwaukee Mayor's Machine Can "Honk" Ragtime or Grand Opera. Mayor Sherburn Becker of Milwaukee is the possessor of a horn upon which, when attached to his automobile, any tune can be played from ragtime to grand opera, says the Chicago Record-Herald. The horn is said to be the first and only one so far manufactured. The tunes are brought out by utilizing the exhaust steam.

There is no additional mechanism beyond one extra pipe into which the steam passes and is released into the twenty-eight brass tubes or pipes corresponding to the pipes of a church organ. A keyboard of brass keys of sufficient range to permit playing in the keys of G, C and F is the means of manipulating the mechanism. It is said that every tone of the church organ can be duplicated. By a manipulation of the ordinary automobile mechanism the forte tone can be produced and likewise the pianissimo. By running the car on high gear and throttling the motor down low each explosion into the muffler produces a fine tremolo. Mayor Becker entertained large throngs in the Milwaukee parks the other day with his automobile music.

Uncle Joe The Story Teller

He Talks to the Little Ones About Rain--Where the Little Drops Come From and How They Benefit the Earth.

"You want to know a whole lot, it seems to me," said Uncle Joe, half in earnest and half in fun. "But so long as even one little girl is thirsty for knowledge, I will try to tell her so she may understand."

"Rain is water divided up into little drops that get so heavy in the sky that they may no longer float on the atmosphere and necessarily fall to earth. The Chinese name for rain is 'luk sui,' or 'falling water.'"

"Water is an element which may exist in many different forms. The largest beds and sheets of water are called oceans, seas and lakes. The rivers are ribbons, the brooks, threads and the ponds, dots, in the fabric and pattern of Mother Earth's dress."

"Nobody has ever presumed to say whether there is more water in the air or on earth. But we know that our atmosphere which extends at least one hundred miles outwardly from the surface of the earth, is ever charged with water dust, which is water reduced into its smallest particles and held in suspension by the actions of the sun's beams until through natural causes, such as the splitting of clouds by lightning and the sudden rushing of cold air currents, the water dust coheres into drop form and falls to earth as rain. All of which descriptive definition is too much for little girls."

"So, let us say, the sunbeams kiss the earth, and their hot breath warms the water so that it flies all into little teentweentse bits so small they become even smaller than the little bits, or atoms, that go to make up the air we breathe. And, because they are hotter and smaller than the air atoms, they rise and sneak through the little cracks and holes of the air until they get way out into the sky, where, when the lightning rushes through or the cold air chills them they are forced together again and become drops of rain, which, because they are heavier now than the air must fall to earth."

"In this way the sun-waves, or hot kisses, and the air carry off water every day, and all day long, from the top of lakes, rivers, pools, springs and seas, and even from the surface of ice and snow. Without any fuss or noise of any kind, the water of our earth is being drawn up invisibly into the sky."

"Remember, the water dust is always mixed all up together in the air, and we can no more see it than we can the air itself. But, when it gets up to where it is heavier than the air it comes or flows together again, packing together until it is so closely packed that we can see it in the sky in the form of clouds."

"Now, let us suppose at some point in the Atlantic ocean, where the sun kisses hardest, one of these tiny bits of water dust rises in response far into the sky. For a while it may float high in space, until after while along comes a cold current of air and forces it to snuggle in with lots of other little bits until the whole mass becomes a vapory cloud which may be seen. The rushing of air is called wind, and we all know that wind blows and moves."

"Supposing, then, our bit of water dust is now a part of the cloud. The cloud itself may still be light enough to float. And it does float, and is borne on the breath of wind until lightning or more cold air forces the vapor even closer together until it forms into many little drops of water, which fall into the sea or on the land, there to stay a while and be taken up and carried again on a similar journey."

"In this way it is possible for our bit of water dust to go to the north pole and back, or to visit any and all portions of the world."

"The further away from the equator it gets the more likely it is to meet with not only cold but freezing air. When freezing air hits it in the form of water dust, or vapor, it falls in the fine form of snow. If it has already started on its journey to earth in the form of rain and passes through freezing air on its way down, the rain falls in the form of sleet or hail."

"A peculiar thing is that when water is frozen into the form of snow, the snow-drops, or crystals, are always six-sided in shape. If you go out after a snow-shower and search carefully, you will see that the snowflakes are not mere lumps of frozen water, but beautiful six-pointed crystal stars, so white and pure that when we want to speak of anything being spotlessly white, you say that it is 'white as snow.' Some of these crystals are simply flat slabs with six sides, others are stars with six rods, or spikes springing from the center, others with six spikes each formed like a delicate fern. No less than a thousand different forms of delicate crystals have been found among snowflakes, but, though there is such a great variety, yet they are all built on the six-sided and six-pointed plan, and are all made dazzlingly white by the reflection of light from the faces of the crystals and the tiny air-bubbles built up between them. This is why, you see, when the snow melts, you have only a little dirty water in your hand; the crystals are gone and there are no more air-bubbles held prisoners to act as looking-glasses to the light. Hoar-frost is also made up of tiny water-crystals, and is nothing more than frozen dew hanging on the blades of grass and from the trees."

"But how about ice? It looks clear. But if you take a magnifying glass and look down on the surface of ice in the clear light of a sunny day, you will see there, too, a number of star-like forms. Only these look dark. In the center of each appears a bright spot, and these im-ed flowers, which are seen when ice is melting, are our old friends 'the crystal stars' turning into water, and the bright spot in the middle is a bubble of empty space, left because the watery flower does not fill up as much room as the ice of the crystal star did."

"Ice always takes up more room than water. That's why water pipes burst in severe cold weather. As the water freezes, it expands, or gets bigger; and, if in something tight, will crack it. The great spans of the Eads bridge crossing the Mississippi river and leading into St. Louis were subjected to ice-packing before they were connected up. For as the freezing ice-packing expanded, the enclosed metal parts of the spans were forced into smaller space and could be fitted more easily together. In the summer time the St. Louis bridge expands throughout its metal parts and consequently tightens up so that there is less rattle."

"Supposing the drop of water of which our little bit of water dust was a part had fallen to earth and had lodged upon the petal of a rose or the leaf of a tree--what, then, might become of it?"

"Trees and plants of all kinds are thirsty at times, and need water just the same as every living thing on earth does. All forms of vegetable life drink up water greedily, and each drop of water helps to give them life. Eye and eye, when the plant gives up life, it absorbs no more water. In the case of vegetables, fruits and other forms of plant life which are eaten by the different representatives of the animal kingdom, the water which contains the life goes to those who consume it. But wherever it falls, it is constantly changing its shape, and with, water is constantly travelling. "When rain strikes the earth it is either soaked up or started back to the sea by means of brooks, streams and rivers. What is soaked up by the ground passes through the miniscule of earth and mixes with them until it tastes like them. But it all gets to the sea some time or other. And, as the sea is the great dumping ground of the water-washed land, and as the sun-beams' kisses refuse to take up anything but pure water dust, the washings of earth are left in the sea, and those with what is already there give to the ocean its quality which we call 'salt.'"

"The surface of the earth is constantly changing. Every time there is a rain it takes off a little of the earth's surface here and leaves it there, or else carries it on to the sea. Sometimes an island in the sea sinks entirely out of sight, or the land of earth rises higher. Volcanoes, earthquakes and shocks inside the earth are constantly throwing up more surface, and the rains are constantly beating it down and carrying it back to the sea."

"Now, just a few words more, and Uncle Joe will be through with his story of the rain-drop. Of late there has been a cry not only in New York state, but also here and there all over the United States against the cutting down of too many trees. Whether or not the trees draw the rain and thereby provide water for the land and its people is too deep for us to go into just at present. But, we do know that deserts are the places where there are the fewest plants, and it would seem that the 'good of man' kind would best be served by a full attention to the planting, growth and preservation of trees."

"WHAT is rain?" asked little Miriam, of Uncle Joe, the Story Teller. "It's a whole lot of water in drops," answered Uncle Joe.

And then he returned to his book. "Yes, I know," persisted Miriam, "but I want to know how the water gets into little drops, and where they come from and where they go to."

"Is Our Present System of Taxation Correct and Equitable?"

(A Paper by Henry W. Naegele of Middletown, O.)

In a paper read before the Men's Round Table club of Middletown, O., on March 2, 1907, Mr. Henry W. Naegele of the Middletown Journal discussed "Taxation" in an interesting manner. Mr. Naegele is prominent in labor circles. After pointing out that the tax system of Ohio is unjust, he considered income and inheritance taxes as follows:

"Of all modes of taxation, the income tax is the most just and equitable. Every man can afford to pay according to his income, and ought to do so. There is no other perfect standard of taxation; none other which does not inflict more or less hardship and injustice."

"The tax comes upon the private revenue of each year, out of which the government should receive its share for the annual revenue of the state. If the private revenue is increased, so should be the contribution to the public revenue; if the former is diminished, the latter should be also. This is fair and just. Were it to supersede all other forms of taxation, perfect equality would be established; property and labor would bear each its just share of the public burdens. To do this, it would be necessary to ascertain the income of every man; of every laborer, whether his wages amounted to one hundred or one thousand dollars a year; of every professional man; of every operative, male or female; every capitalist, banker, merchant and mechanic. Upon the gross income, thus ascertained, the income, thus ascertained, the general tax should be levied, pro rata."

"That many men are dishonest there can be no doubt; but when the law taxing income is regularly enforced from year to year, the difficulty of concealment, on the part of the taxpayer, is constantly increasing. His neighbors and competitors in business have an eye upon him, if they believe he is making false statements, and he can not long escape detection."

"Another objection made is that men do not always like to have their incomes known. But why should they not? We have already said that, in the matter of taxation, all are co-partners, having a pro rata interest. What one does not pay, others must. All, therefore, may rightfully demand such information as shall furnish the means of assessing a correct tax."

"Besides this, an income tax well enforced will be the means of diffuing a large amount of information most important in regard to the credits which business men are required to give. The position and ability of every man will be better understood. This is an important consideration."

"We do not advocate the adoption of the income tax as a substitute for all other modes of taxation; our purpose is to show that, so far as practicable, it is the most just and economical mode of raising a revenue."

Inheritance Tax.

"To whom does the world belong, the living or the dead?"

"Men die, and the property they have acquired or held during their lives must pass into the possession of others. May the person who is about to leave the world say to whom his wealth shall immediately descend? May he go farther and say to whom it shall descend for all coming time? May he go farther still and determine what specific use shall be made of his wealth forever? Or shall the laws of the state decide the questions--to whom, for what purposes, and for how long, the wealth of the deceased persons shall descend? Does the world and its wealth belong to the living or the dead, or to both in common? If to both, what portion should belong to each? If the dead are allowed to control a part, why not all? Which party, the living or the dead, will most intelligently decide how wealth can be advantageously employed in production, or in any other mode, for the benefit of the living?"

"These are points involved in the subject of inheritance and the testamentary disposal of property, and are important in an economical point of view, irrespective of all other considerations. These questions have practically been decided by the laws and institutions of society in different ages and countries. Governments have always interfered in regard to the estates of deceased persons, to such an extent as to prescribe limitations and conditions. So far as these laws have been in harmony with instincts of humanity, and the laws of value, they have been beneficial in their operation. But all the wealth, all the institutions, all the interest of society, should ever be regarded as fully under the control of the existing generation of men. This should be a fundamental principle in civil polity; and, if law may interfere in this matter at all, it may do so to any extent the public interest shall demand."

Amend the Constitution.

Wm. O. Mathews of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce and the Ohio Tax League, in an address before the Tax Commission of Ohio, said:

The Cleveland Chamber of Commerce has committed itself positively upon the proposition that the constitution of Ohio should be amended. A suggestion has been made that it is possible to secure the improvements desired in our tax laws under our constitution as it is. We do not believe it. We sincerely hope the Commission will recommend the constitutional amendment we believe to be essential.

Quite So.

Two members of the Princeton faculty during a recent hurried trip to New York were on a Broadway car when it was stopped by a blockade. As they were near their destination, they decided to get out and walk. The blockade was, however, soon lifted, and the car overtook them.

"When we left the car," said one of the "highbrows," who, by the way, has a bit of the Celt in him, "I thought we should get on better by getting off. But after all we should have been better off if we had stayed on."--Harper's Weekly.

SUGGS AND HIS SYSTEM.

How His Deep Breathing Course Came to Be Interrupted.

Pulitzer Suggs appeared on his front porch just as his neighbor came out on his own steps. The neighbor glanced over and saw that Mr. Suggs' cheeks were puffed out and that his eyes seemed to be bulging. He observed also that Mr. Suggs walked methodically the length of his porch, then turned and retraced his steps, cheeks still puffed and eyes still bulging.

"Good morning," called the neighbor cheerily. "One!" said Mr. Suggs, with a mighty outpuffing of breath. Then his cheeks sank in and his eyes went back to subnormal, while his shoulders curved forward and his chest became concave. His waist line also became smaller, and Mr. Suggs walked the length of his porch and back in this shape, while the neighbor looked on with amazement.

"Good morning," the neighbor said again when Mr. Suggs returned to his end of the porch.

"Two-o-o-o!" hissed Mr. Suggs, with a tremendous rush of breath. Once more Mr. Suggs' cheeks grew round and round. Once more his eyes bulged out and his face grew purple. Once more he paced the length of his porch and back. Again the neighbor said "Good morning," and this time

Mr. Suggs blew out his breath in a raucous "Three-o-o-o!"

Again his shoulders were curving forward; again his cheeks were sinking inward, but the neighbor ran across the lot and demanded: "What in the dickens do you mean by snubbing me, sir? I'll give you to understand I'm as good as you or anybody else, and when I say 'Good morning' it's up to you or anybody else to acknowledge it."

Mr. Suggs gasped and replied: "Good morning, then, dodgast it! I'm taking one of these deep breathing courses, and you choked me off right after the third inspiration, and now I've got to go back and begin all over again!"--Judge.

Something to Wash Down.

One day last July little Freddie and his mother went to visit the boy's cousin, Martha. The day being very warm, Martha served lemonade and cake. Freddie, who was very fond of cake, ate all of his piece before he had drunk any lemonade. Martha, noticing this, said:

"Freddie, drink some of your lemonade and it will wash the cake down."

Freddie drank a little lemonade and bit longingly at the cake on the table and finally said:

"Please, Martha, can I have one more piece of cake, so as to have something to wash down with this lemonade?"--Judge's Library.

GIRL'S LONG TRIP TO WED.

Traveling Alone From London to Alaska Town on Miner's Dore.

A lone-trip of 12,000 miles from London to an obscure mining town in the arctic circle, as a result of a dare to keep a date for a wedding set seven years ago is the final chapter in the romance of Miss Clara G. Askwith, who recently passed through New York bound for Candle City, Alaska, where on July 1 she is to marry W. J. Wells, a successful gold miner, says the New York Mail.

Miss Askwith, who arrived on the Minnehaha, was the guest overnight of the family of W. Scott Patmore, auditor of the Cafe Martin, who are old friends of her family, but she cut short her visit so as to speed across the continent without loss of time. From Seattle she will take a steamship to Nome, whence she will make her way to Candle City by sledge.

The marriage ceremony will be performed by Justice J. C. Kepner immediately upon the arrival of the bride. Candle City is 300 miles north of Nome and is one of the northernmost cities in the territory. Miss Askwith is taking this trip because her fiancé, in a letter, accused her of not having enough nerve to keep the date of the wedding on account of the immense distance that separated them.

Since he went to Alaska seven years ago Mr. Wells has become possessor of valuable gold mines, and these need his constant attention.

"Either you or I must make the trip to keep our pledge to each other," wrote Wells to her. "It is next to impossible for me to leave Alaska. Have you the nerve to travel here to me?"

To which she replied promptly: "Expect me in Nome on July 1. Make arrangements for wedding. I accept your challenge to make the trip."

Wells took a mining engineering degree in a London technical school in 1900. At that time he became engaged to Miss Askwith, and it was agreed that the wedding would not take place until Wells had made his fortune. He left England for Alaska a few weeks later.

"Miss Askwith comes from an estimable family in London," said Mr. Patmore. "She and Mr. Wells have been friends since childhood. They were school mates for several years and never were apart from each other for any length of time."

What Socialism Would Do.

The substitution of socialism, either absolutely or in a modified form, would be to strike down the best political system which has been thus far devised by the genius or wit of man, and it would undermine the last hope of the lovers of republican government in this world.--Vice President Fairbanks.

A MASTER CLOCK OPERATES SYSTEM AT UNIVERSITY

BY WHICH DENISON STUDENTS ARE NOTIFIED OF CHAPEL AND RECITATIONS.

Whole System is Operated by Electricity—General News and Personals of Granville.

Granville, Ohio, June 29.—Workmen are now busy installing in the University an extensive system of "progressive clocks," furnished by the class of '06 as a memorial. This system of clocks reaches to every class room on the university grounds and is operated by electricity, striking each period for recitation, chapel and alike. The whole system is operated by electricity from a master clock, located in Science hall.

The Denison university students who attended the Y. M. C. A. Students' convention at Niagara on the Lake, have returned home very enthusiastic over the trip. In the party were the following: C. W. Kemper, J. H. Maloney, W. R. Taylor, Charles Carman, Ray Carman, Z. D. Brown, H. H. Gibson, T. D. Alden, Ray McMillen, Susan Useigi, John Mitchell, A. K. Mather, Frank Ashmore and Louis Thomas. During their stay the boys took a trip to Toronto, and Messrs. Ray and Charles Carman, sons of Rev. and Mrs. A. S. Carman, visited friends in Rochester.

Miss Frye Bennett recently made a visit of a few days with her friend, Miss Viva Dickerson, in Jersey. While there Miss Dickerson gave a party in her honor, a number of the young people of the community being invited to meet her. Among those present were Alfred Callens and Mrs. T. G. Long of Columbus. Sherbet and cake were served and a very enjoyable evening was spent.

Mrs. A. S. Carman and mother, Mrs. C. D. Hanscomb, reached Granville from New York city, where the latter is making her home, on Wednesday of last week. They will go to Northport, Mich., in about ten days.

A lawn fete will be held on the lawn of the M. E. church this evening, provided the weather permits.

Rev. A. S. Carman will occupy the pulpit of the Market Street Baptist church in Zanesville, Sunday, both morning and evening.

Prof. C. L. Williams has again been engaged to preach four Sundays at Middle Bass Island this summer, where he is exceedingly popular.

Mrs. Luella Ranch has been visiting her cousin, Mrs. John Prout and family, in Alexandria.

Mrs. J. H. White of Salt Lake City, Utah, who has been visiting for the past few weeks, relatives in Granville and Newark, left for his home Monday.

Mrs. Louise Boyden of Elyria, O., was here Friday for a short time.

The Survival of the Fittest.
[If baby is a weakling, kill it.—Boston Scientist.]
When Dr. Osler long ago announced that any one Who'd passed the turn of forty years was just about all done, We slugged our aged grandfathers with an ax in the chest, And he amid our falling tears was laid away to rest. We often missed the dear old man, but if the world's to thrive We know from modern science that the fittest must survive.

And now we learn from Boston that the little children who Are not quite physically fit must be disposed of too. We've chloroformed the baby, we've poisoned little Jim; As Willie was a weakling, we took an ax to him. Bedella fell and broke her arm one afternoon at play, And as we feared it might not knit, we threw her in the bay.

The family's sort of shattered now, we broke it up a bit; But those of us who still remain undoubtedly are fit. And yet we read the daily press with pale and haunting fear And dread that some new scientist will presently appear To prove that he's the only man who should remain alive And kill us all in order that the fittest may survive. —James J. Montague in New York American.

Sir Chentung on his return to China will become vice president of the board of foreign affairs of his native country.

THE ADVOCATE'S SHORT SATURDAY SERMON

By the Rev. C. J. Baldwin, Pastor of Granville Baptist Church.

Exodus 3:6. "I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob."

This triple name of the Deity might appear to be a limitation of divine grace to the conditions of one peculiar people—that remarkable race which has been more highly honored of God than any other in the world. But the Jews have been a cosmopolitan people—scattered abroad on the face of the earth and flourishing everywhere as no others could do. They alone of the ancient races maintain a world-wide prevalence and prosperity, so that what is true of them may be regarded in a sense as true of all.

Abraham, Isaac and Jacob are names significant of more than tribal or racial characteristics. They are types of universal import—standing each for a great moral distinction which may be found always and everywhere among men.

Abraham is the typical Believer. His name represents the principle of Faith, reverent, believing, obedient. He was the father of the faithful in whom all the nations of the earth were to be blessed. As such his descendants are to be found everywhere. The man of faith is the man of vision, of ideals, who forecasts the future and lives in the light of what is to be or ought to be. This spirit makes him the pioneer of new reforms, the prophet, the leader, the champion on whom all progress depends. The children of Abraham are always at the front in religion, politics, science and society. They keep the world in motion; and woe to mankind when such people cease to be! On that day the progress of our race will stop.

Isaac was a very different person from his father. He is described as "a plain man living in tents," of whom little is known, for the reason that his career was uneventful of great deeds. He lived a life of ordinary commonplace prosperity. As such he was a type of Mediocrity—of that large class of people who live unheroic lives and die unheroic deaths. Yet they compose the vast average of humanity, and on their character depends the quality of our race as a whole. For it is the "common" things of earth, so-called, that are its real staple and substance. What more "common" than light, air, heat, and moisture? But what more important and valuable? So it is the common people that make up the actual worth of any nation or race.

Jacob suggests to us the sphere of moral vicissitudes. He is a type of sin-vexed, sorrow-bent humanity, of our nature carried up to the heights of honor or plunged into the depths of shame. And as long as there are those whose life vibrates between sin and righteousness, so that they can hardly be classified with the hosts of darkness or of light, but must show the graces and the blame of history as problematic characters, so long will Jacob's story have a symbolic place in the annals of time.

Now it should be to us very instructive and inspiring to think of the God of Abraham, God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob; for this three-fold aspect of the divine nature will show the relation of the Deity to the various kinds and conditions of human expressions everywhere.

The God of Abraham is the God of Mystery and Majesty. He is the one who requires faith and who rewards it. Now, as in the days of old, His will comes to men in the form of truth hard to understand and burdens heavy to be borne. His government shrouds itself in darkness. His footsteps are in the deep waters. And how often has human patience and hope faltered in the midst of the strange trials of this religious life! But without faith it is impossible to please God. We must learn how to walk by faith; and our perpetual dependence must be on the God of Abraham. Alas for those who have no such idea of the divine providence, but who think that because they can't see the justice and wisdom of the divine dealings, there is no such truth in reality! The God of Abraham always justifies the confidence that He exacts. None of those that put their trust in Him have ever been confounded. The divine sovereignty as shown in the election and foreknowledge of events according to infinite wisdom and goodness, deserves our utmost faith, for it amply rewards us for all that it costs.

The God of Isaac is the God of Condescension. The son of Abraham was a type of the great community of mankind in their plain and simple expression of the routine of existence. The most of men must live on the levels of ordinary unheroic habitude. But they are not aside from the reach of divine revelation. To these, as to Isaac, comes the ministry of inspiration infinite pity and familiarity. This is the God whom Jesus made known to the people—the Father who loves all His children and provides for them as for the grass of the field, the young ravens when they cry.

The God of Isaac is the hope of the humble home, of the obscure worker, of the miserable and forlorn. "I am poor and needy, yet the Lord looketh on me."

But these phases of divine life and character do not exhaust the resources of grace. The God of Jacob corresponds to still other needs of humanity—the needs of the sinful, the lost, the condemned. And as everywhere we find the ravages of evil in the devastations of life, so that there is always an occasion for that great salvation which the Cross of Christ makes known to the world. The God of Jacob is the hope of those whose hearts condemn them and whose future is dark with fear. It is He who so loved the world as to give His only begotten Son to save it. It is He who is now waiting for the lost to come to Him, whose good spirit goes out to the wanderer with offer of pardon and peace.

And so it comes to pass that whereas in all the world there is anyone who is in any moral need, he may look up to the Divine Nature and see something in God corresponding to his peculiar case. Every individual experience has the right of direct appeal to the Most High and you will find that the God of Abraham, of Isaac, and of Jacob, will be your God also in His exact adaptation to your personal condition.

SUCCESS IN NURSING

The Best Paying Occupation — Free Scholarships in Philadelphia Institution.

Nursing the sick is perhaps the most attractive field for the ambitious woman who would win success, and make the most of life. It is a refined occupation. It gives skill to the hand and grace to the heart. It is the best paying occupation now open to women, and presents an ever-widening field of opportunity. The call for nurses is a world-wide call. It is the one calling which is not over-crowded.

The demand for skilled nurses increases with the years. Thousands of young women have the natural graces of the skilled nurse, but have never had a chance to cultivate them and so have been prevented from improving their own condition and blessing the race. But a new day has dawned. Large-hearted philanthropists have opened wide the door of opportunity at the Philadelphia School for Nurses, 2219 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa. A two years' free course has been established at this institution, wherein the student is provided with room, board, laundry, nurse uniforms, and all the refinements of a good home, with suitable training, instruction and actual nursing in the homes of the poor and among people of moderate income, and at the end of the course the student's fare home is paid.

The term can be shortened to 18 months by a course of six months' reading and study at home—a course which is very valuable in itself. Hundreds of young women, scattered all over the country, are started in the work, becoming not only self-supporting, but a boon to their respective neighborhoods.

A short course is also provided for the woman who wishes to quickly prepare for self-support and a substantial income. Enrollment is now in progress for a class of 400 students in the resident courses next year. Young women from the smaller towns and country districts are favored in the distribution of scholarships, with a view of conveying hospital knowledge to all rural communities.

The imports of lead into Great Britain declined from 220,000 tons in 1905 to 208,200 tons in 1906, while the exports for the year fell from 60,600 tons to 58,400 tons. The consumption of lead in Great Britain showed a decrease of over 25,000 tons, as compared with 1905.

HARPER'S WEEKLY LENDS PUBLICITY TO EXPOSITION

MANY FEATURES BETTER THAN THOSE OF ANY EXPO. SINCE CHICAGO.

Nearly 4000 Men Now Working to Complete the Show—All to Be Ready for Visitors in July.

Norfolk, Va., June 29.—The current number of Harper's Weekly says:

The Jamestown exposition has been having a hard time with some New York papers of late. So as to settle the matter once and for all and to get its certificate of character, it sent for W. I. Buchanan, late of the Buffalo Pan-American Exposition, and the right hand man of David R. Francis at the St. Louis fair. Mr. Buchanan says that the character and scope of the exposition are vastly greater and more extensive than he had anticipated; that there are indeed certain features of the exposition that are in every sense distinctly better than those of any exposition since Chicago, notably the exhibits of the United States government; secondly, the state's exhibit building, both of itself and the exhibits it contains, he thinks, surpass any state exhibits heretofore attempted. Even if nothing more were done to the buildings and their contents than had been done when Mr. Buchanan was there, there would still be a show worth looking at, for he said, "There is vastly more to be seen and enjoyed in architectural beauty, in landscape and water effects than anyone has reason to expect."

Meanwhile a great deal has been done. Between three and four thousand men have been set to work completing the buildings, the roadways, walks and grounds.

Virginians are not excitable people, they never get nervous, and they do not hustle, and they all go at enterprises slowly; but when they begin, they stick to it. This is the Virginia characteristic; that they never give up an enterprise, a cause, a friend or an enemy. If they take hold they keep hold.

The setbacks the exposition has received have taken effect to get up Virginia's fighting blood. The fair will be a greater success for the dull opening. As things stand now, it promises to be complete in July.

Altogether, there is a great deal to tempt the sight-seer to the exposition, and perhaps to an intelligent traveler, the greatest sight will be that of the land and its people, for in few places in the United States has a type been so long maintained without a mixture of an alien strain, and Virginians are almost as definitely a people and a type as Frenchmen or Germans.
